Frigate Searches For Missing Plane

Making ready to put to sea Monday night the R.C.N. frigate Antigonish is shown at her Esquimalt berth. She is now making a search in the Gulf of Georgia for the missing T.C.A. plane. The newly-commissioned naval vessel is fitted with the most modern anti-submarine and echo-sounding equipment. She is searching mainly from Sandheads lightship, off the mouth of the Fraser River to the east coast of Gabriola Island. At right is her commanding officer, Lt.-Cmdr. J. E. Wolfenden.

5 More Locals End Telephone Strikes In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wage agreements brought telephone employees back to work in five midwestern states, but the main country-wide dispute dragged on into its 30th day.

Federal conciliators, Peter J. Manno and William N. Margolis, said a settlement was "quite possible" before nightfall in the strategic long lines division of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Still optimistic despite slow progress in the negotiations, they predicted the sessions today would be "the most important yet."

John J. Moran, head of the long lines union, told reporters an agreement might be reached if the company would "come up far enough" in wage offers ranging from $2 to $4 a week.

Meanwhile a settlement was announced for 17,500 workers in the Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska area served by the Northwestern Bell Company.

Members of unions affiliated with the strike-directing National Federation of Telephone Workers, they accepted raises ranging from $3.50 to $4 a week.

This followed a back-to-work movement by 37,000 members of New York unions not affiliated with the N.F.T.W., who took a $4 weekly hike.

The A.T. and T. declared in a statement Monday night that nearly one-fourth of the 340,000 now have returned to their posts.

Preliminary Study Proceeds To Revise B.C.E.R. Power Rates

The power rate-setting Public Utilities Commission of the B.C. government is proceeding with its preliminary study of rates charged by the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. for power on Vancouver Island and the mainland but it appears some time will elapse before public hearings will be held to determine a possible revision of rates.

At the same time the commission, headed by Dr. W. A. Carrothers, is making a preliminary study to determine whether or not it is feasible for the commission to set up a stabilization fund of B.C.E.R. excess profits to maintain power rates through changing economic conditions.

At the conclusion of this preliminary study the commission will present to the government a recommendation on whether or not the stabilization fund proposal is feasible.

It is the commission's intention to make a full-scale revision of power rates charged by the B.C.E.R., taking into consideration the general rates, a possible increase or decrease, and at the same time to study possible adjustments in rates for various types of consumers.

Dr. Carrothers feels that the public should have an opportunity to advise on the commission on the rate revision and therefore the public hearings will be held but he could not predict at this time when sufficient information would be available to start the hearings. He indicated it may be several months.

Churchill Asks More Time For Vote On Conscription

LONDON (Reuters)—Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, leader of the Conservative opposition, declared in the Commons today that he would use every parliamentary means to make sure a vote did not take place tonight on the Labor government's proposal to reduce from 18 months to a year the period of compulsory peacetime military service in Britain.

Churchill, questioning Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, about how the government intended to dispose of the committee stage of the government bill for peacetime conscription, rejected Morrison's suggestion that it was hoped the amendment dealing with the period of service would be dealt with today.

"We ought to have at least from today to tomorrow to consider what attitude we are to take," Churchill said. "We are supporting the government and we have some right to decent consideration."

The bill, opposed by 75 Labor "rebels" when it was debated on second reading recently, was approved then in principle by a combined government and opposition majority, with Liberals joining the rebels against it.

The amendment to alter the period of service, a clause strongly opposed by Labor member R. H. S. Crossman and a group of government supporters who rebelled against the foreign policy last year, was tabled by the government shortly after the debate.

AMENDMENTS TOTAL 135

The House will devote three days to consideration of the measure, which provides for the extension after Jan. 1, 1948, of provisional military conscription now in force. There are 135 amendments.

Morrison said Defence Minister Alexander would make a complete statement on the decision to alter the period of full-time service.

Death Sentence For German Who Commanded Forces In Italy

VENICE (AP)—A British military court today sentenced Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, former supreme German commander in Italy, to death by shooting after convicting him of war crimes against the Italian people.

Kesselring's counsel, Dr. Hans Laternser, had declined to ask for clemency after the verdict was announced, saying: "He expressly asked me not to address the court any further."

The lawyer said later, however, that he himself would "appeal personally against the sentence."

After announcing the verdict, the five-man court deliberated 40 minutes to reach the sentence. When Kesselring heard the words, translated by the interpreter, he sat down abruptly in his chair. Then he was led from the courtroom by British military police.

C. L. Stirling, the judge advocate, announced both the conviction and the sentence were subject to review by "the appropriate military authority" in this case, Lt.-Gen. Sir John Harding, commander of British Central Mediterranean Forces.

ARDEATINE MASSACRE

Kesselring was convicted on two counts, one of them accusing him of responsibility for the Ardeatine Caves massacre in which 335 Italians died in reprisal for the killing of 32 German police troops.

He was the third German officer to be sentenced to death for that slaughter. The others were Col.-Gen. Eberhard von Mackensen, formerly second in command in Italy, and Lt.-Gen. Kurt Maeltzer, commander of Rome during the German occupation. They were sentenced last November, but neither sentence has yet been confirmed.

The second count on which Kesselring was convicted charged him with inciting his troops to excesses in fighting partisans.

EX-FIELD MARSHAL KESSELRING

German forces on the western front for a time in 1940 before taking command in the south, went on trial Feb. 17, accused of having ordered the reprisal killings of more than 1,000 Italians, including school children and two-year-old babies.

The prosecution charged he also was responsible for the killing of 1,078 other Italian civilians.

The 60-year-old ex-field marshal, once one of Germany's foremost military strategists, informed the court on March 7 that he assumed the full responsibility for the Ardeatine Caves massacre.

"The order was passed on by me," he declared. "I accept the entire responsibility."

3 Textile Union Leaders Arrested In Lachute Strike

LACHUTE, Que. (CP)—Three officers of the United Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.), directing two strikes here were arrested today and taken to St. Jerome, Que., to face charges.

A union spokesman identified the three as R. Kent Rowly, Canadian director of the union, and organizers Madeleine Parent and A. Beaucage.

Provincial police said the three probably would face charges of participating in an illegal strike.

L. Robach, publicity director of the union which is directing the higher wage strike of workers at the Ayers Ltd. textile mill and Dominion Shuttle Co., issued a statement saying the arrests "can in no way affect the strike," which will continue until a settlement is reached on the basis of the union's wage proposal.

Miss Parent was one of six persons arrested last Friday when provincial police and pickets clashed in front of the Ayers Ltd. textile mill as company officials led 250 workers into the plant. She was later released.

At the Dominion Shuttle Co., a subsidiary of Ayers, the union reported everything closed tight and the situation quiet.

At least half of the 600 Ayers employees and the 250 Shuttle workers, are demanding a 15 cents hourly wage increase, six legal holidays a year and a union shop provision in the work contract.

Predict Early Action To Move Houses To Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Developments in the housing project, designed to bring 1,600 homes from Bremerton, Wash., to Vancouver, are expected to break within the next 48 hours. Reliable sources indicated here success of the project may be assured in a matter of days.

Reconstruction Minister Howe announced in the Commons Monday the federal government was ready to approach United States federal authorities in the matter.

It was also reported assurances had been received from Seattle officials of the United States public housing authority that the houses were "available."

Meanwhile members of the New Veterans' Branch of the Canadian Legion have decided to stage a protest demonstration May 31 unless they are given "positive assurance" by May 27 that the Bremerton houses and other suitable housing will be made available immediately to B.C. veterans.

OSLO (Reuters)—Discontented with the tiny courtroom at Voss in western Norway where his treason trial has begun, Dybwad Brochman, Norwegian author, broadcaster and politician, offered to pay rent for larger premises. The offer was refused and his trial opened with only 10 spectators able to get into the little room.

Special Session Discriminatory, Leaders Charge

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—The Arab Higher Committee for Palestine today charged the United Nations' Assembly with discrimination and announced withdrawal of its request for a hearing in the Palestine debate.

The Assembly's 55-member political committee was ready to act on the Arab committee's request when Chairman L. B. Pearson of Canada read a telegram announcing the withdrawal.

The Arab organization protested that its request for a hearing had been referred to the political committee for a decision while the request of the Jewish Agency for Palestine had been considered by the Assembly itself and granted.

This unexpected turn reopened the complicated debate on representation of non-governmental organizations in the extraordinary session of the assembly.

The new controversy flared up as Soviet circles said Russia was determined to challenge a British-U.S. plan which would exclude the five big powers from the proposed U.N. fact-finding committee on Palestine.

Authoritative sources said a suggestion would be made that the inquiry committee be composed of Canada, Czechoslovakia, the Netherlands, Peru, Uruguay, Iran and Sweden.

AGENCY'S VIEWS

Also before the political committee was an Assembly directive that it give the Jewish Agency, official voice of Palestine Jews, a hearing. This decision was taken after the Assembly had voted to bar the Jews from plenary session debate on the Holy Land.

The Assembly further instructed the committee to consider the requests of other interested groups, including the Arab Higher Committee of Palestine, for an opportunity to express their views.

The U.S. plan to limit the inquiry committee to neutral powers was expected to be opposed immediately by Russia and the Arab states. They argue that the Big Five should be represented.

Bracken Must Find New Federal Riding; Redistribution Approved

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons redistribution committee today adopted on division—without a recorded vote—recommendations for changes in the boundaries of federal electoral constituencies in Manitoba. The changes may mean that John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, will have to find a new riding.

Mr. Bracken now represents the Manitoba constituency of Neepawa. Under the recommendations accepted by the committee, Neepawa will be joined with the constituency of Portage la Prairie, now held by C. C. Miller, a Progressive Conservative. As a result either Mr. Bracken or Mr. Miller will have to seek a new seat unless the recommendations of the committee are reversed by the Commons as a whole.

B.C. CHANGES DEBATED

The recommendations for the changes in Manitoba were submitted to the main committee by Fernand Viau, Lib., St. Boniface, chairman of the Manitoba sub-committee. The main committee has been striving for several weeks to carry out the provisions of a bill that will increase the Commons membership from 245 to 255 members.

With the Manitoba and Nova Scotia and British Columbia reports being adopted at the day's sittings, only the report of Saskatchewan remained to be dealt with.

The Nova Scotia report also was adopted in division after members had voted 9 to 7 against an alternative report submitted by H. J. Brooks, P.C., Royal, N.B.

Under the redistribution bill, Manitoba, through a loss of one seat will have a representation of 16.

The Manitoba ridings of Macdonald, held by Gilbert Weir, government Chief Whip in the Commons, and Lisgar, held by Howard Winkler, a Liberal, also would be joined together.

A new constituency of Norway would be created in the city of Winnipeg. The riding would be named after a former Manitoba Conservative Premier.

These changes would necessitate an extension of the boundaries of Souris, Brandon, Marquette, Dauphin and St. Boniface. The size of Selkirk would be reduced.

SUGGESTION REJECTED

Arthur Ross, P.C., Souris, Man., said he could not agree to amalgamation of the Neepawa and Portage la Prairie seats. He had suggested the Macdonald riding be eliminated and divided among six other constituencies. However, this would not have relieved the situation in Selkirk, which had a population of 56,000.

However, he felt that as Prime Minister King's riding of Glenora—the smallest in Ontario—had been left unchanged, it might have been possible to leave unchanged the seat of one "who may be the next Prime Minister of Canada."

The British Columbia report among other things recommends that two new seats going to B.C. under the bill be located in the Vancouver metropolitan area. It also recommends a large slice of the riding of Cariboo be attached to the constituency of Kamloops.

Admiral Opposes Armed Forces Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King opposed unification of the U.S. armed forces today. The wartime navy chief said "emphasis has been wrongly placed" and "the nation should first concentrate all diplomatic, civilian, industrial and manpower efforts under a National Security Council."

Fires Spread In Chilcotin While B.C. Police Hunt Indian

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C. (CP)—Fires raged through tinder-dry bushlands in the Chilcotin district 60 miles west of here today as an aerial survey was ordered to learn the extent of the flame-swept area, and police and forestry officers sought a fur-thief arsonist.

The fires are believed to have been deliberately set to cover thefts of Beaver from trappers along forest-lined Lake Renner and Mackin Creek in the Chilcotin area. Police reported an Indian was the suspected arsonist. "There is only one suspect," said Staff-Sgt. A. Fairbairn of the British Columbia Provincial Police. "He is an Indian from a local reserve."

Beaver were reported stolen from the trappings of Eric Collier, president of the B.C. Registered Trappers' Association. Collier's son discovered the first blaze, and while he was attempting to extinguish it, he saw another start nearby. Seven others were started in a short time, set two miles apart along an 18-mile stretch of woods.

Charles Yingling, district forester at Kamloops, has ordered a plane into the district, 300 miles north of Vancouver.

Britain's Heating Ban Slightly Relaxed

LONDON (Reuter).—The government today announced modification of its almost total ban on summer heating to permit use of gas or electricity to heat homes when necessary for the health of those under three and over 70.

Making a statement in the Commons, Hugh Gaitskell, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of fuel and power, said gas and electricity could be used during the summer for heating if authorized by a doctor.

Use of gas or electricity would also be justified for drying clothes, household linen and buildings affected by floods.

Two weeks ago Fuel Minister Shinwell announced a virtual ban on all heating of commercial, industrial and residential premises would be imposed for the six summer months.

Last Thursday the opposition attacked the scheme for the hardship it would cause to British housewives. Conservative critics argued the ban would place a heavy burden on mothers of young children if they were not allowed facilities to dry babies' diapers and clothes.

A.P. Correspondent At Moscow Wins Pulitzer Reporting Prize

NEW YORK (AP).—Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press foreign correspondent who is chief of the Moscow bureau, won one of the eight annual Pulitzer journalism prizes announced Monday—the award for distinguished telegraphic reporting in international affairs.

The gold medal for "The most disinterested and meritorious public service rendered by an American newspaper" during 1946 went to the Baltimore Sun for a series of articles by Howard M. Norton dealing with the administration of unemployment compensation.

Four awards were made in the field of literature and one in music. No prize was given for a play, the judges apparently feeling that no production last year met the criterion of an "Original American play, performed in New York, which shall represent in marked fashion the educational value and power of the stage."

The prize for "a distinguished novel published during the year by an American author, preferably dealing with American life," went to "All the King's Men," written by Robert Penn Warren, a professor at the University of Minnesota. The novel tells of the rise to power of a southern political leader.

Vaughn Shoemaker, Chicago Daily News cartoonist, won the award "for a distinguished example of a cartoonist's work published in an American newspaper during the year."

He was the only individual winner this year to have received a Pulitzer Prize previously; his other award was in 1938.

Shoemaker's winning cartoon, titled "Still Racing His Shadow," depicted a workman labelled "New Wage Demands" racing furiously and pursued by a shadow called "Cost of Living." The award specified that the whole body of the artist's work in the year was considered.

LUCKY AMATEUR

The prize for "An outstanding example of news photography" went to Arnold Hardy, Georgia Tech student and amateur photographer whose dramatic picture of a woman leaping to death in the Wincoff Hotel fire in Atlanta last December was purchased and distributed by the Associated Press.

Other journalism prizes included: "For distinguished correspondence during the year"—Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times, for a series of articles on Russia; Atkinson, formerly the Times' Moscow correspondent, has resumed his job as the paper's drama critic.

"For a distinguished example of telegraphic reporting on national affairs"—Edward T. Follard of the Washington Post for a series of articles on Columbian Inc., anti-Semitic organization.

BIOGRAPHY AWARD

The American biography prize went to "The Autobiography of William Allen White," published after the death of the Emporia, Kas., editor.

James Phinney Baxter III's "Scientists Against Time" took the history prize, and Robert Lowell's "Lord Weary's Castle" won the verse award.

The music prize went to Charles Ives of West Redding, Conn., for his "Symphony No. 3," first performed in New York last April.

William H. Kummant of Glen Rock, N.J., won the annual $1,500 scholarship for an art student "certified as the most promising and deserving by the National Academy of Design."

Eddy Gilmore's award marked the 11th time the Associated Press had won a Pulitzer Prize. It was given for "A distinguished example of telegraphic reporting on international affairs published in daily newspapers in the United States" as exemplified in "His correspondence from Moscow in 1946."

An Associated Press reporter since 1935, Gilmore won international attention last year with an exclusive interview with Premier Josef Stalin on the eve of the first meeting of the United Nations in the United States.

The Pulitzer prizes, first awarded in 1917, were made possible by a $2,500,000 gift to Columbia University by Joseph Pulitzer.

War Assets To Sell
West Coast Naval
Ship Sans Peur

EX-H.M.C.S. Sans Peur, which saw varied naval service on this coast during World War II, is now up for sale by War Assets Corporation.

She was formerly a luxury yacht owned by the Duke of Sutherland. At the outbreak of the war, she was one of a number of small craft quickly assembled to form a mosquito fleet for the R.C.N. She joined the fleet in Esquimalt early in 1940 and established a worthy war record in the service.

Her first service was on patrol in Queen Charlotte Sound, Puget Sound, and the Straits of Juan de Fuca. Then she assisted in the removal of enemy aliens from outboard ships. In May, 1941, she assisted H.M.C.S. Prince Henry in landing the crew of a German vessel scuttled to escape capture by the Canadian auxiliary cruiser.

Later she carried out anti-submarine patrol, and in the fall of 1942, she was refitted with the latest anti-submarine equipment to become a training ship. After serving with the training base, H.M.C.S. Naden, the Sans Peur was transferred to the Halifax command and, in January, 1944, was allocated to the anti-submarine school in the naval base, H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, near Digby, N.S.

Probably the best-equipped anti-submarine training ship in the Canadian Navy, Sans Peur contributed much to the anti-submarine efficiency of the little ship navy which shepherded convoys safely in the North Atlantic sea lanes.

At the end of the war, Sans Peur took on the task of ferrying personnel from Cornwallis to Saint John during the high-speed demobilization program in the fall of 1945. Afterwards the vessel remained in full commission and carried out training exercises in Canadian and Bermuda waters. She was declared surplus in February, 1947, and later went to W.A.C. for disposal.

Built in a British yard, the Sans Peur is stoutly constructed with reinforced frames and three-eighth-inch plating. She is 210 feet overall, 30 feet three inches beam, with a draft of 13 feet six inches. The displacement tonnage is 865. Twin Diesel engines developing 870 brake horsepower drive the vessel at a speed of 15½ knots. Auxiliary machinery is both electrically and Diesel driven.

The accommodations are described as luxurious, the guest cabins being paneled in various decorative hardwoods. The decks are teak. Navigational aids are completely up-to-date.

College Students
Get Summer Jobs

There seems to have been little difficulty in the majority of Victoria College students who wish summer employment finding it. Dr. J. M. Ewing, principal, reported today.

He said that Selective Service officials had been extremely helpful in aiding students find summer employment, and the Dominion government had also supplied the college with a list of possible summer jobs. A great many of these were for eastern Canada he said, but the British Columbia positions had been snapped up by students.

He said he had heard nothing of students being unable to find summer employment and that none had come to him for assistance.

The spring session of the college is in progress now, with 70 veterans taking the special course.

Canadians Honored By Dutch
On Their Liberation Date

NIJMEGEN, Holland (CP).—Thousands of Dutchmen, women and children, led by Queen Wilhelmina and Prince Bernhard, made a pilgrimage Monday to the green hilltop cemetery in observance of the second anniversary of the final liberation of Holland by the 1st Canadian Army and the surrender of the German 25th Army.

During a brief but moving ceremony at the cemetery where 2,500 Canadians are buried, some 25,000 persons heard the Netherlands Foreign Minister, Baron Boetselaar, say that "Canadians buried here are the ones who paid the full price for our freedom" and that the graves form the bond uniting "our two peoples, uniting them in friendship greater than words."

Queen Wilhelmina in a brief speech called attention to the significance of the service, largest and most impressive in Europe honoring Canadians since the end of the war. The Queen, on her own initiative, had asked to attend.

Four hours before the mid-afternoon commemoration, thousands of Netherlanders made their way on foot or by bicycle from Nijmegen and surrounding towns to the cemetery summit. The whole town of Goresbeek, near the cemetery and from where the Canadians first advanced into Germany, turned out. The services were initiated by Pierre Dupuis, Canadian Ambassador to the Netherlands.

P. H. Gordon of Regina was decorated as an officer of the Canadian Red Cross. His decoration was received by Maj.-Gen. B. W. Browne, Red Cross commissioner.

Special tribute was paid by the Polish minister to the work of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire when the president, Mrs. Kathleen Drope of Toronto, was decorated.

Morris MacDougall of Ottawa, who, for the Polish Red Cross, visited Poland and unveiled a plaque there for the Canadian airmen who died bringing relief to that country, was decorated and the widows of the five airmen who lost their lives in that task were given the golden Cross of Merit.

They were Mrs. A. E. Webster of Montreal, Mrs. D. F. Caldwell of Nanawee, Ont., Mrs. E. P. Harling of Calgary, Mrs. N. D. Roche of Ottawa, and Mrs. E. T. Phillips of Montreal.

Parmalee Planned
Coup Of $150,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Police said Monday a further check of baggage of Lucius A. (Christmas) Parmalee, 58-year-old; international swindler who pleaded guilty to four swindling charges last Friday, indicated he apparently planned a coup of approximately $150,000.

Cheques totaling that amount were found in a suitcase Parmalee left in a hotel room, Detective Inspector Leonard Green said. The 20 additional cheques were prepared or partially prepared and needed only three signatures. They were made out for a total of $78,000.

Previously found in Parmalee's possession was $17,000 in cash obtained by passing fake cheques at four Ottawa banks Thursday, and 10 cheques totaling $39,250.

Britain Stakes Future On Miners
Producing More In Shorter Week

LONDON (CP)—The Labor government Monday staked the United Kingdom's economic future on the ability of a key group of British working men—the coal miners—to increase the sorely-needed coal output while working shorter hours.

As the miners entered the nationalized pits for their first five-day 40-hour week, government and union officials urged fullest co-operation to prove improved working conditions are not incompatible with producing the essential commodity in adequate quantities to enable the country to win the fight back to a higher living standard.

BAN ON HEATING

Meantime, a new coal-saving directive went into effect in southern England and Wales. Heating of homes by gas or electricity until Sept. 30 and business premises until Oct. 31 now is under a ban to which is attached a £100 ($400) fine for violations. The measure aims to save 2,500,000 tons of coal by next winter.

But much of this saving will be lost as an indirect result of the new work week unless a settlement is reached soon in an unauthorized strike which is keeping 12,000 men off the job and costing the country 50,000 tons of coal weekly from 12 Durham mines.

(The Associated Press said spreading strikes by surface miners had left at least 32,000 idle.)

"Winding enginesmen" (elevator operators) struck Sunday because they claimed that under the new schedule they would lose between 30 and 40 shillings ($6 and $8) weekly. As a result of the strike underground workers were unable to reach their jobs.

A National Coal Board official said the strikers had "seceded" from the union and the Durham Colliery Enginemen's Association appealed to members to "keep the pits working."

Women Of Italy To Care For Graves Of Canadian Soldiers

OTTAWA (CP)—The women of Ortona, Italy, in a letter addressed to Prime Minister King, have offered to assist Canadian next-of-kin seeking information about the graves of Canadian servicemen buried in Italy, defence officials disclosed Monday night.

Madam Rice La Rovere, secretary of the Italian Women's Union, wrote describing a recent ceremony at an Ortona cemetery and asked that relatives of Canadians buried in Italy who are anxious to correspond with Italian women taking care of a grave should write to Unione Donne Italiane, Via Tripoli No. 1, Ortona-a-Mare, Italy.

The union will turn the correspondence over to the Italian family in question, who will reply direct to the Canadian relatives.

The plan is similar to ones now in effect in both Holland and France, where people of those countries have "adopted" Canadian graves and are caring for them.

Although there are three military cemeteries predominantly Canadian in Italy, the greater number of graves are concentrated at Ortona, where approximately 1,300 Canadian servicemen lie buried. Other graves are concentrated at Agira in Sicily and at Villanova.

Regina Housewives
Plan Demonstrations,
Probable Picketing

REGINA (CP)—The executive of the Regina Housewives' Consumers League is planning two more demonstrations and a picketing program to protest prices of foodstuffs and clothing.

Mrs. C. A. Farrow, secretary of the local league branch which numbers its members "somewhere between 100 and 200," said following a meeting Monday night that the league would send two decorated trucks equipped with loud-speaking systems through the city next Saturday to urge public support of their month-long buyers' strike.

The strike started May 1 with a league-sponsored parade of about 800 youngsters who called for a lowering of prices of chocolate bars.

The league will urge restaurants to lower the price of a cup of coffee to 5 cents and if not heeded will begin picketing restaurants, it was stated.

A letter would be sent to Finance Minister Abbott protesting the recent 10-cent boost in the price of butter.

The executive is also planning a second parade, this time a "baby parade" May 17 at which it is hoped to feature twins. The "butter question" will be emphasized during that march.

A mass meeting of housewives will be called sometime after May 16.

Articles under the ban of the league, including clothing, fresh fruits and vegetables, jams, jellies and bacon, will be boycotted next week and meat, lard and syrups in following weeks.

News Of The Island
Sooke Has Grown Steadily For 14
Years Since First 'Sooke Day'

SOOKE—Since the commencement of "All Sooke Day" 14 years ago, and from which the receipts of those celebrations helped to build the $14,000 Sooke Community Hall, Sooke has grown steadily.

No section of this large district, which is one of the largest electoral districts on the island, may be said to have predominated. Homes have sprung up at all points and on every road. New roads and houses have been built in subdivisions around the Sooke School, where people with young children have built homes.

New roads have been constructed at Saseen where people with children of high school age have settled to enable their children to go a short distance to Milne's Landing high school.

With the building of offices in Sooke centre to accommodate a dentist, real estate and insurance business, general stores, garages, hair dresser, barber, cobbler and coffee shop, and with a sub Bank of Montreal service, and three weekly visits by a doctor, Sooke may now be said to be practically independent. As far as daily needs are concerned.

Among the 25 new families in Sooke who have fishing boats and are engaged in tuna and other fishing, some have purchased homes in recent years and some have built along the waterfront. A new home was built last year on Muir Point, overlooking the straits.

Considerable new construction has been carried out on the long Sooke River Road and summer homes are popular.

Farthest from this location may be homes built on the West Coast Road waterfront by several Albertans, who appreciate the clear water, the ever-changing Olympic Mountains, and the grandeur of the sea. Seven homes have been built on Maple Avenue within the past year, and a new house is to be constructed shortly on Sooke Road on the late William Fox estate.

Of interest to the Sooke pioneers is the building of a few homes north of Cooper's Cove which overlook the high rocks, the large Sooke upper basin and tiny islands. It is anticipated homes may one day be built along this section to connect the gap between houses at North Sooke.

Women's Institutes
Meet At Sooke

SOOKE—Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute met Friday, in Sooke Community Hall dining-room, with Mrs. G. A. Acreman presiding.

A report on the leatherwork classes being held in the Sooke School lunch-room every Tuesday afternoon, under the auspices of the Sooke School Board, was given by Mrs. A. M. Edgcombe, the instructor.

Mrs. A. L. Wilson announced that gifts had been sent to the institutes' 13-year-old girl at the Solarium. She also stated that preschool children may have a medical examination at the next clinic, May 29, at 2.30 in the afternoon, at Sooke School.

Mrs. R. Kirendrew requested that the institute members send exhibits to the flower show being arranged by the Evening Guild of Knox Presbyterian Church, to be held June 26, in the hall.

The institute has purchased an inhalator, which was its project for the year. Mrs. Walter Conder, convener of the inhalator fund, presented it, for safe-keeping, to three members of the Sooke Volunteer Fire Department, who attended the latter part of the meeting to receive it. They were: A. F. Brownsey, chairman; D. J. De Rochie, secretary, and A. L. Wilson, fire chief.

The gentlemen expressed their gratitude and explained that the Victoria Fire Department planned to send out instructors to train a crew of three Sooke men to handle the inhalator.

Mr. Brownsey remarked: "If it saves one life, we shall be rewarded."

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. J. Fray, Mrs. R. G. Gibson, Mrs. J. Bowen-Cuthurst, Mrs. Jack Goldie and Mrs. B. Farquhar.

Izvestia Protests
Marshall Report

MOSCOW (AP)—The newspaper Izvestia Monday accused State Secretary Marshall of making an "incorrect appraisal" of the Moscow Foreign Ministers' conference, in his recent radio address to the people of the United States.

"The Secretary of State does not conform to the facts in his analysis of the situation," said Izvestia. "He gives a picture of the Soviet delegation in a false light and distorts the meaning of the Soviet proposals."

Nell Gwyn Tunnel
Unknown Since 1675
Found In Windsor

LONDON (AP)—A workman loosening stones at the Windsor Guildhall poked his pneumatic drill into a secret the gossips didn't know about in 1675.

The drill suddenly left his hands, and he found he had penetrated a large hole. Investigation established he had struck a portion of a tunnel which led off in the direction of one of Windsor's historic houses. Then historians took over the inquiry.

The historians, just about agreed they were dealing with another "Nell Gwyn tunnel." Nell Gwyn used to live in the historic house, and the workman with his drill apparently uncovered one of the subterranean passages used by King Charles II to make secret calls on the glamorous lady.

The discovery at Windsor was associated immediately with the other subterranean passage, recently found in the Chelsea region, which enabled the king to call on Nell without the neighbors knowing about it.

One end of the Chelsea tunnel is under Sanford Manor House, now an office and shop of the Fulham gas works, where Nell Gwyn once lived. The other end is some feet under the turf of the horticultural ground of the Royal Hospital, a spot in which King Charles found a mysterious interest.

Nell Gwyn, illiterate actress who was called a child of the London streets, charmed a nation, a generation and the king with her simple talents. Historians describe her as the most popular of the king's many mistresses, and say it is to her credit she didn't try to dominate prime ministers and bishops but that she did induce the king to create a foundation for today's Chelsea Hospital for veterans.

During the war years, nearly half a million more Canadians realized that setting aside money in a savings account at the B of M was sound commonsense—like the farmer putting hay in his barn. That makes a million and a half B of M depositors following a policy that is at once in the best interests of the individual depositor and in the best interests of the nation.

For money in the bank doesn't lie idle. It works constantly in two ways. It works for the saver and it works for national prosperity—providing, by loans and investment, the capital that creates employment. It helps to produce goods... to produce prosperity.

WHEN we were a bit younger, "it ain't hay" was a smart way of saying that the money involved was really important.

We'll wager the man who coined the phrase was not a farmer. Because a farmer would see that there is a lot of similarity between the hay in his mow and important money... money in the bank.

For the wise farmer stores hay—not just enough for a mild winter, but enough for the longest, most severe one.

WAR'S ACCOMPANIMENT

G RIM REMINDERS OF THE ATROCITIES spawned by Nazi war are continually being brought to the notice of Canadians. The most recent of these is the death sentence passed upon Field Marshal Albert Kesselring by a British military court in Venice today. This former German commander on the Western Front, who took over direction of the gruelling defence of Italy, has admitted responsibility for passing on the order that resulted in the reprisal killing of more than 1,000 Italians, including school children and babies.

The horror of the Ardeatine Caves, in which 335 were massacred, is also laid to the hand of the top-flight Hitler soldier, who, with two others has been condemned to death. The Kesselring verdict, it will be noted, is subject to appeal under the legal processes by which he was tried, and defence counsel has indicated that he will seek mitigation of the sentence. Whatever may be the outcome of the appeal, the decision reached in Venice today is further proof of the inexorable manner in which criminals are being called to answer for the crimes they have perpetrated. Punishment will be meted out.

The death of Albert Kesselring cannot balance the scales for the wiping out of 1,000 Italians. "One life cannot pay for those of a multitude. Justice demands an accounting, but the fact can never be ignored that the crime of which he stands convicted is a ruthless accompaniment of war itself, the expression of that depravity which feeds on the slaughter of the battlefields and grows strong to choke the decencies of humanity. Not all men would have passed on the order relayed by the Nazi field marshal, it is true. But when the dogs of war are unleashed madness spreads. Should another holocaust engulf the world, there would be a repetition of such atrocities. The evidence presented at the Kesselring trial should be a sobering influence on those who speak too loosely of the inevitability of another conflict. They cannot, if they share even in minor degree any human sympathy, condone the condition which sets the stage for the heinous offence for which the German military leader now stands condemned.

FOLLOW THE DEBATES

A CLOSE AND INTELLIGENT PUBLIC interest in the official doings of elected representatives is the surest way to maintain a solid foundation under the structure of democracy. It provides an encouragement to those legislators who conscientiously seek to further the public good, a deterrent to those who might lose sight of the common goal in pursuit of personal aims, and a reinforcement and enlivening of the democratic ideal among those persons who believe that the duties of citizenship do not cease with departure from the polling booth.

The news agencies and the press provide a day-by-day account of the workings of Parliament, but the physical limitations of space preclude the publication of more than brief summaries and short quotations from all but the most important speeches. To get a full and complete record of parliamentary proceedings it is necessary to go to Hansard, which is a word by word report taken down by official stenographers and printed each day by the King's Printer at Ottawa. The procedure originated in the British House of Commons and the name is derived from that of Luke Hansard—the 18th Century printer who started publishing verbatim accounts of the parliamentary debates.

Both in Britain and in Canada organizations have been formed for the purpose of publicizing the existence of Hansard reports and their availability to the reading public. The "Canadian Friends of Hansard," as the group is called in this Dominion, have the backing of leading citizens and educationists throughout the country. They are now conducting a campaign to encourage public subscription to the Hansard report, which is available from the King's Printer for a small sum per year. All who value the wealth of their democratic rights and take an interest in the functioning of their country's business will give the matter more than passing attention.

ORDER IN SPAIN

THERE IS INTEREST FOR RESIDENTS of the democratic countries in this week's development in Spain, where the death penalty has just been decreed for bombings, kidnapping and other acts of "banditry and terrorism." These latter, it appears, include the formation of armed bands and what is called "social subversion."

In the face of Dictator Franco's assurances that the country is solidly behind him, it would be extremely interesting to learn who are forming the "armed bands" and how widespread the movement is. And also just what types of activity the Spanish leader classed as "social subversion."

THEY ARE REMEMBERED

THERE ARE MANY REWARDS FOR the performer of a job well done, not the least of which is a full and sincere appreciation on the part of the beneficiary of the service. For this reason there will be satisfaction among Canadians over yesterday's ceremony near Nijmegen, Holland, where 25,000 Netherlands citizens, led by their Queen, turned out to honor the Canadians who died in the liberation of Holland from the Nazis.

The hallowed ground near Nijmegen is as much a part of Canada now as though it nestled on a hillside of the Pacific coast, or in a valley of the mighty Rockies; on the rimless stretches of the prairies, or in the rolling hills and meadows of the east. For its dust is the dust of Canada, and its memories are Canadian.

The results of the sacrifice of the men who lie there go much further than the wartime achievement of having won a victory and liberated a country, magnificent as that achievement was. For their power has extended over into the peacetime, too, and their memory both at home and abroad is now a shining and eternal confirmation that Canada is a country where men believe in freedom and are ready to fight for it when necessary, whether it be their own freedom or that of an oppressed neighbor. They are the everlasting witnesses that this is a land where man's soul is honored and respected in law and in the eyes of his fellows; where the human individual is recognized as an entity—a separate work of God—and not a servile unit in the marching mass. Those men marked us as a nation which is ready to uphold the common rights of humanity no less abroad than at home, and they carried their proof beyond life itself.

These are the things which for the Netherlands are symbolized by the white crosses on the little hill near Nijmegen. They will not be forgotten.

SHARING BEAUTY

OVER THE YEARS, GREATER VICTORIA's reputation as the city of homes and gardens has reached international proportions. Probably some of the best-known horticultural scenes in the world depict sections of Butchart's famous grounds in a profusion of bloom that takes second place to none. On a smaller scale, innumerable private gardens establish a degree of excellence which is attracting a growing volume of flower and plant lovers to Vancouver Island at this season. It is a gesture of unselfish citizenship that so many owners should open their gates to visitors at this time in the course of the special week sponsored by the Victoria Horticultural Society and the Vancouver Island Rock and Alpine Society.

A generous providence has given this community conditions ideal for the creation of beauty in favored natural surroundings. The devotion of home-owners to their gardens, be they small plots or large estates, has provided the improvement which transforms many into artistic masterpieces. And because those who have labored in this constructive effort are unwilling to hoard their enjoyment, they are now opening their premises to kindred souls who find delight in flowers, trees and shrubs. To the owners of the gardens, Victoria owes a debt of gratitude, and to the sponsoring organizations which have made possible this week of visits go the thanks of all citizens.

STILL FLYING

CURRENT BRITISH EXPERIMENTATION in supersonic speeds for aircraft, point-to-point records and long distance flying was summarized in a recent speech by Lord Nathan, the Minister of Civil Aviation, and indicates considerable preparation for peacetime progress in aircraft construction. Lord Nathan mentioned in particular Britain's attempts to overcome the problems of flying and landing in the thickest of weather, as well as the more spectacular efforts to exceed the speed of sound at heights of more than eight miles.

"We aim to do these things," the Minister said, "not just as transitory flights in pursuit of records but on regular services. In fact we aim to achieve these speeds and these heights on everyday passenger services."

The world needs no reminder of the achievements of British airmen and aircraft manufacturers in the recent war. We now are being furnished with concrete proof that the industry is not resting on its laurels, but is determined to take its rightful place in the vast commercial field of global aviation which now is opening.

MAN'S HUMANITY

IN ANOTHER COLUMN ON THIS PAGE Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Marshall extend their thanks to those who assisted them in saving some of the young turkeys rescued from a brooder fire which claimed approximately 1,000 young birds in a blaze at Brookleigh Road early Saturday morning. In face of a loss that runs into thousands of dollars, the first concern of the Marshalls on Monday morning was to see that credit was given for the help they had received in their misfortune. Their purpose was to show appreciation to those who left their beds to fight the fire and others who volunteered assistance at a later hour. It seems worth while to draw attention to this expression of sincere thanks. Such neighborliness, and the sentiments it inspires, reassert man's humanity to man at a time when the news so frequently underscores the inhumanities.

Walter Lippmann

U.N. AND PALESTINE

THE OPENING STATEMENT made by Mr. Herschel V. Johnson, speaking for the United States on Palestine in the U.N., has not attracted the attention which it deserves. For the statement recognizes accurately the new situation created by the British appeal to the U.N. and defines the working principle which is bound to be controlling in the inquiry, in the debates, and in the conclusions, if there is to be a practical and constructive result.

The crucial sentence in the American statement is that "it will be extremely difficult, if not impossible, to enforce any decision which does not rally the support of 'most' of the peoples of the world." These few words are pregnant, and they say a great deal. For they commit the United States to work for a decision which can be enforced by the United Nations.

THIS FORMULA marks a definite break with the past. Hitherto the decisions have been taken by the British government, as was inevitable since it alone had the responsibility and the burden of enforcing decisions. The American contribution has been purely advisory. The American advice has been given freely and copiously, sometimes by invitation of Britain, as in the case of the Anglo-American Committee of Inquiry of 1945, and oftener without being invited.

The new American formula calls for a decision which, not Britain alone, not Britain and America together, but the United Nations can enforce. That this is the right and the statesmanlike formula is plain. There is no point in submitting the problem of Palestine to the U.N. except to arrive at a decision that the U.N. will and can enforce, that Britain, and also America as members of the U.N. will faithfully participate in deciding and in enforcing.

THERE ARE THREE controlling terms in this formula.

First, that there should be a decision, since all the many competing claims on Palestine cannot be satisfied.

Second, that this decision must be enforced since it must be assumed that no decision will be accepted voluntarily by all the parties concerned.

And third, that this decision must be one which can be enforced by the United Nations now, as they are today, in their present stage of development, not as they might be, ought to be, and some day, we hope, may be.

We are bound to adopt this criterion—that the decision must be enforceable by the United Nations. There is no alternative. We have to find the solution within the limitations of U.N. Now there are things which U.N. cannot do. They will have to be ruled out. There are things which U.N. can do. The solution will have to be that kind of thing.

WHAT CAN U.N. NOT DO? It cannot now enforce any decision which required it to crush the opposition of large organized masses of Palestinian Arabs or Palestinian Jews. It does not have the military power to do that sort of thing, and the U.N. would never sanction it anyway. This rules out any decision which would cede the whole of Palestine to the Arabs or to the Zionists.

Nor can U.N. enforce a decision which calls for the international government of the whole of Palestine. In the present state of the world the rivalry of the great powers being what it is—an international administration of Palestine is a utopian solution.

We may generalize and say that U.N. is not competent to enforce any solution which requires it to govern within Palestine.

WHAT KIND OF THING, then, can U.N. do? It can guarantee a lawful political boundary line. This is the kind of international function which U.N. is best able to perform. To be sure a frontier cannot always be guaranteed absolutely. It can be crossed, as is now the case in Greece, by surreptitious bands. Nevertheless, as compared with any other type of international enforcement, the defense of a frontier is the most likely to be successful. Violations can most easily be detected. Resistance to aggression of this kind will, in the present state of world opinion, most surely rally collective action. Such collective action cannot, under Article 51 of the Charter, be stopped by the veto.

This indicates the eventual answer, I believe, to the question which the American formula poses, namely to the question: What kind of decision would be enforceable by U.N.? It would be a decision to partition Palestine, first by setting aside Jerusalem and the holy places, and then by drawing a boundary line between the Arab community and the Jewish community.

NO LINE CAN SEPARATE all the Jews from all the Arabs. But if the line separates the main elements of the two communities it will accomplish its purpose. That line will then be an international frontier. The problem of policing Palestine will be reduced to guaranteeing that line against aggression by either community and to holding each accountable to the United Nations for the protection of the civil rights of all who are within its jurisdiction. The authority of the U.N. should be sufficient to do that much.

There can be little doubt that a partition, if objectively done, would leave only the extremists on both sides, who have grandiose and dangerous ambitions, to be dealt with by force.

Well, Here We Go On The First Leg

Harold Stassen And The Time Of His Life

By HARRY P. HODGES, Editor of the Times, From Washington.

NOT ONLY because he already has announced that his hat is in the ring for the G.O.P. presidential nomination in 1948, but more especially because a week-end release of the 400-word transcript of his recent interview with Prime Minister Stalin has set political and diplomatic tongues wagging, Minnesota's former governor, Harold E. Stassen, had the time of his life in the Pan American room of the Statler Hotel here yesterday morning.

Faced by nearly 100 newspapermen and newspaperwomen of various nationalities this boyish-looking ex-commander of the United States Navy—whose striking personality and captivating smile help to enhance an imposing physique—flicked not one whit under a barrage of questions, many of them of the sixty-four-dollar variety. And his technique could be called the answer to a reporter's fervent prayer. He spoke slowly and deliberately, in striking contrast to the speed and eloquent enthusiasm which he imparted to the magnificent speech he used as a vehicle to explain the aims and objects of the United Nations down at San Francisco two years ago. Nor was it surprising that this ebullient young man who is setting his cap for the highest honor within the gift of this country weighed every syllable and measured each completed sentence with meticulous regard for its effect. For was he not dealing with ideological, political and economic dynamite?

PRIVATE CITIZEN

Regardless, however, of Stassen's punctilious respect for the proprieties, his emphatic assurance that on his recent European jaunt he was traveling "as a private citizen, as one of the leaders of the Republican Party in America, in no sense representing our government," his decision to report "frankly to my own party and the people of America on my return" furnished its own commentary. In other words, he was following the example of another great internationalist, the late and lamented Wendell L. Willkie, whom it was my joy to meet and chat with on two memorable occasions. But what will Mr. Stassen's newly-acquired knowledge do to him politically when he sorts it out and applies it to the great American public? It is one thing, for example to address a body of internationally-minded compatriots and explain to them how urgent is the need for succor and leadership—succor and leadership for which the United States is rightly proud to acclaim its capacity. But even when the highest motives are translated into the cold terms of practical or grass-roots politics in the narrower sense, one world philosophy often loses some of its appeal.

BIPARTISAN POLICY

Mr. Stassen may relate in all its harrowing detail how the peoples of most of the 16 countries he visited in his recent tour of continental Europe are trying to keep body and soul together, how they are battling frustration and bedevilment, and how, in the vital cause of universal and lasting peace, it is essential for his country to maintain its bipartisan policy in international and external trade relations. It will nevertheless be recalled that Mr. Willkie, intelligently anticipating the imponderables of the aftermath brought all his persuasiveness to bear on these basic principles. Yet, first at the primaries in Wisconsin and then at Chicago in 1944, the man who was proud to style himself to me five years ago as "one of Newton Baker's boys" realized how difficult it was to marry traditionalism to the hard facts of a changing world. All such speculation in the light of comparatively recent history as it may relate to Mr. Stassen's aspirations will be tossed about in various form between now and the early summer of 1948. In the meantime, of course, the latest Moscow interview and Mr. Stassen's disquisition on its long text will keep editors and international politicians occupied in trying to fit Soviet promise into recent performance.

A Ray Of Light In Britain's Gloom

By JOHN DAUPHINEE, Canada Press Staff Writer, From London.

A MASS of postwar economic difficulties has brought predictions overseas that Britain's day is done, but some of the world's most astute business men consider the country's long-term future a good risk. There is no inclination here to minimize the tremendous problems to be solved before peacetime prosperity can be attained. The February industrial shutdown—its effects will be felt for a year—pointed up the dangers so no one can ignore them.

This series has described the crippling shortages that must be overcome: Shortages of coal and electricity, manpower, raw materials, modern factories, food, homes, transport and dollars.

Spokesmen for Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government have veered recently from subdued optimism to heavy pessimism in their public statements. Even Attlee warned in his economic White Paper that without more coal, more and better distribution of workers and more exports "we may never restore the foundations of our national life."

It is a melancholy outlook, but not necessarily the final picture.

INTENDED TO FRIGHTEN

Dire forecasts from government sources must be read with the political situation in mind. They are intended to frighten—to bring back the Dunkerque spirit that saved the United Kingdom after France fell in 1940.

Underlying the surface foreboding is a firm conviction that the United Kingdom ultimately will win through. Business men want to build new factories; the backlog of industrial construction is an indication of confidence in the future. So is the firmness of the stock market's industrial section.

Opposition criticism of the government has been mainly that Labor has been putting too much stress on Socialist policy, not enough on overcoming present emergencies. But the argument has been that this program is delaying the attainment of prosperity, definitely not that prosperity is forever out of reach.

NO FUNERAL

There is no foundation for the suggestion that the die has already been cast, that the standard of life is doomed to decline, that this great nation must now go down to poverty and impotence," said the thoughtful Times of London. "Overseas friends, whose sympathy has been ready, can rest quiet. There will be no funeral."

"Can we maintain and increase our standard of life, or must we reduce it?" said Attlee in a radio broadcast. "I believe that we can maintain it and in course of time raise it, provided that we organize intelligently, make full use of science and invention, avoid waste, and above all work well."

MAY GET WORSE

Everyone admits recovery will be a long process and most admit that conditions may get worse before they get better. Lord Layton, chairman of the News Chronicle and head of the production ministry's joint production staff during the war, reminded the House of Lords of Winston Churchill's early-war timetable for munitions output:

"First year, nothing at all; second year, very little; third year, quite a lot; fourth year, all you want."

"The picture as I see it," Lord Layton said, "is that the country is not much more than half way back to normal in terms of time."

That is the optimistic view; most business men expect a longer struggle. But in the United Kingdom there is little of the "calamity howling" about the country's long-term prospects that has been heard in the United States.

CONFIDENCE

And Lewis Douglas, the new United States ambassador who is a top-flight executive and once was President Roosevelt's budget director, does not share the negative view. The pessimistic long-term forecasts, he told a London press conference, are based on "statistics, which always ignore the imponderables" such as the courage of a people, their industry and their capacity for sacrifice.

"I have complete confidence and faith in this country," he said.

"There may be a tedious period, but the sun will shine again, and shine brightly, on this land and she will recover much of her traditional position in the world."

With that American expression, the people of these islands would agree.

CLIPPED AT RANDOM

NEW ALIBI

Edmonton Journal
Science's latest wonder is a machine which marks school examination papers. This provides Junior with a new excuse; if he failed, it was because someone forgot to change the oil in the machine.

SOME CHOICE

Ottawa Citizen
It was Disraeli who asked whether "a government of statesmen or of clerks" was the better, and distinguished them as "humbug" and "humdrum" respectively. As between the two classifications, it is easy to see from which the country benefits most.

PHILOSOPHIC SOLUTION

London (Ont.) Free Press
Plato hoped for the day of the philosopher-kings to rule in his ideal republic. There is little sign of them yet in the world but unless such leaders arise mankind cannot expect enduring peace or cessation from war. Possibly we should study philosophy more than we do, not only in schools but throughout life.

DWELL ON CHARACTER

Montreal Star
Character is the greatest of all moral assets, in fact, character is destiny, and the power wielded by Christian character is the greatest of all moral facts. And never has the difficulty of accounting for the power of such character been so insurmountable as it is today.

He who died upon a Cross to make possible a perfect world never hinted that such perfection would consist in a full freedom from grave difficulties.

FEET FIRST

Ottawa Journal
It was characteristic of the indomitable Field Marshal Smuts that, showing the Royal party the view from the top of Table Mountain, which is the background of Capetown, he should keep a pledge to himself never to reach the top by any other means, to meet there the others who went up by cable car. Table Mountain is high and precipitous and to climb it is no light task for a man half the Field Marshal's 77 years.

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Edmonton Bulletin
From 1937 to 1946 the cost of living in Canada grew by a mere 26 per cent. The percentages in the other eleven countries where the cost of living was surveyed are: United Kingdom, 32 per cent; South Africa, 38; United States, 48; Sweden, 50; Norway, 65; the Netherlands, 82; Brazil, 125; Mexico, 300; Italy, 1,900; Japan, 4,000 per cent and Hungary—here take a firm grasp of something—235,795,000,000 per cent up to last May, when the office abandoned further effort to keep track of the fluctuating currency. The Hungarian situation was a consequence of a spectacular inflation.

SAFETY FIRST

Winnipeg Free Press
Some venturesome spirits will be disappointed over the decision of the authorities in command of the Alaska Highway not to permit general tourist travel over the famous road this year. Its development has not reached the point where ordinary go-as-you-please traffic is safe and its length is such that its 27 business establishments, including stopping places, gas stations and stores, are long distances apart in a heartless wilderness. The time is not far distant when the road can be used for ordinary tourist traffic but it will come only when there has been additional settlement and the facilities are greater than at present.

Letter To The Editor

APPRECIATION

Through the medium of your paper, I wish to thank the many friends and neighbors who turned out at 3 a.m. last Saturday morning to fight the fire in our brooder houses and barn. Special thanks to Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Handy, and Mr. Richardson of Keating, who first saw the blaze and roused us in time to save part of our flock of turkeys and who worked tirelessly in doing so. Many thanks to the Saanich fire department, who answered the call promptly and the telephone operator on duty who called neighbors to our assistance. Our appreciation and gratitude to Mr. W. Pope, poultry inspector who attended the birds that were injured and burnt, and to Mr. C. E. Whitney Griffiths, Commander Beard and many others who have offered their assistance. We are deeply grateful.

Fly To California Following Wedding

Honeymooning in San Francisco, which will be their new home, are Mr. and Mrs. William G. Wilson who were married Monday morning in Our Lady of Lourdes Rectory, with Rev. J. Buckley officiating.

The former Miss Alice Patricia Corcoran, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Corcoran, 1940 Greatford Place, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilson, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Oak Bay Beach Hotel was the scene of a reception following the ceremony where the couple, assisted by the bride's parents, welcomed guests. A three-tier wedding cake flanked by white candles centred the bride's table. Rev. Buckley gave the bridal toast.

A white prayer book topped with rosebuds and a gardenia was carried by the bride, given in marriage by her father. She wore a full-length veil embroidered with seed pearls over her classic gown of lace and nylon net over tulle, styled with off-the-shoulder net ruffle and long full skirt.

Pale yellow chiffon over tulle was worn by Miss Rita Corcoran, her sister's only attendant. She wore elbow-length lace mitts and a coronet of flowers held her chapel veil. Roses, sweet peas and iris composed her colonial bouquet.

The bride's brother, E. L. Corcoran, came from Vancouver to act as best man.

For the plane trip to California, the bride wore a hand-tailored suit of off-white worsted flannel, contrasting topcoat of cranberry wool with lynx collar, and floral hat.

Repeat Vows Before Rev. A. Whitehouse

Wedding vows were repeated by Miss Olive Summers Inglis, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Inglis, 539 Linden Avenue, and Alfred Alexander "Alex" Leatham, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leatham, 195 Olive Street, before Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, Friday evening at Metropolitan United Church.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Inglis and Mrs. Leatham assisted in welcoming guests. The couple cut their three-tier wedding cake centring the bride's table, which was decorated with lighted white tapers and vases of pink carnations. Gordon Rodger proposed the toast to his niece.

Shining white satin with sweet heart neckline, and long, fitted bodice gathered into a full skirt formed the bride's classic gown, with which she wore the groom's gift, a double strand of pearls. Her full-length veil was held with orange blossoms, and her bouquet was of red roses and lily of the valley.

Wearing palest blue tulle with matching half-hat, Mrs. E. T. Parkins attended as matron of honor. Misses May Christina Inglis, sister of the bride, and Jean Gourlay, were gown in orchid and green moire tulle, respectively. They wore matching calots and carried bouquets of spring flowers.

Edward T. Parkins acted as best man, while ushers were J. Walker and Robert E. Wiegand.

A midnight blue suit with winter-white hat and topcoat, black accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias and pink roses was worn by the bride for the wedding trip to Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Leatham will return to the city to make their home.

Miniature Gardens On Display

Mrs. G. M. Lynes will show a collection of miniature gardens she has made during the past two years at the Decorated Table Display in the ballroom at the Empress Hotel, Wednesday afternoon.

With a small pair of pliers, a tiny dental tool, tweezers, pen knife and a big pin, Mrs. G. M. Lynes has fashioned a series of miniature gardens that run from the poetic fancy of an elfin dance to the homely beauty of a barnyard scene.

Mrs. Lynes only started this work a little over two years ago when she was recuperating from a serious illness.

Looking around for something to occupy her time she first thought of trying to paint.

A great lover of nature and the outdoor life, she saw wonders in the twisted bark of the trees, the moss on the rocks and the tiny flowers that bloomed in every sunny patch of earth surrounding the home in Queenswood where she and her husband live.

But painting didn't seem to be the right medium to express all the things she saw.

Suddenly she remembered the "peep-shows" she calls them, that used to amuse her when she was a small child.

"I thought I'd try and make one for my grandchildren," she says with a smile, "at least it would give me something to do."

MOSES, BARK USED

The first scene she attempted was a room with tiny figures seated in chairs and at a table. From it she turned to the outdoor scenes.

Her first efforts were boxed in, "just like the peep-shows," she tells you, but as she progressed it became evident that the small gardens were far more effective without the boxes. So she started to work just from a base.

She gathers the mosses, the barks, and the bits of twigs, and tiny branches, from the woods around her home. And she gets much pleasure looking for these natural effects.

At first she could buy the tiny figures she needed for her gardens in the stores but finally when this became impossible, she had to use her own ingenuity to find a way to make the little figures.

She tried plasticene, wood, wire. It didn't work.

"It looked for a while as if I'd have to give up," she says. "Then one day I discovered a pot of modelling clay and its from that clay that I make all my figures now."

Mrs. Lynes works out her scenes from authentic pictures in National Geographic magazines she has collected down the years.

She may think about a scene for several weeks, but when she finally starts to work she goes right ahead until the garden is finished. Usually this takes from two to three months, just working in her spare time.

One tiny flower may take an hour to complete. Figures made first of thin wire, then covered with the clay, painted with water color paints and dressed in appropriate garments, take much longer.

At present Mrs. Lynes is working on a Japanese Lotus Pond, exquisite in every detail from the tree of cherry blossoms to the glossy green lotus pads.

Asked if she thought patience was the most necessary attribute for such a hobby, Mrs. Lynes said, "No, interest is far more important than patience."

Rings Exchanged In Twilight Rites

Wedding rings were exchanged Saturday in an early evening ceremony by Miss Joan Lorene Berry, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berry, Armley, Sask., and Frank Gordon Rainsford, son of C. A. Rainsford, Linnet Lane, Elk Lake, and the late Mrs. Rainsford, Rev. F. Comley read the nuptial service at St. Michael's Church, Royal Oak.

Mauve and white lilacs and pink tulips formed a colorful background for the bride in her gown of English lace over satin, highlighted with deep peplum over the slightly en train skirt. Her tulle veil was held beneath a coronet, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and lily of the valley. Her only jewelry was the groom's gift of a gold locket. Mr. Berry gave his daughter in marriage.

Wearing similar gowns of pale green and of pale pink nylon marquisette were sisters of the bride and groom, Misses Mabel Berry and Mary Rainsford, as bridesmaids. They wore white lace picture hats and carried arm bouquets of roses, carnations and sweet peas.

Tiny niece and nephew of the groom, Laurie and David Rainsford, were flower girl and ring bearer.

John Rainsford attended his brother as best man. Other brothers of the groom, Fred, Lawrence and Robert, acted as ushers.

A toast to the bride was given by her brother-in-law, John Rainsford, at a reception held in the church hall. Centring the bride's table, was a three-tier cake, flanked by tall white candles in silver holders. Mrs. Berry assisted in receiving guests.

A three-piece suit in queen's blue gabardine, with navy blue accessories and corsage bouquet of pink roses was worn by the bride on the wedding trip up-island.

Vancouver will be the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Rainsford.

Everyman's Theatre Here This Week

Climaxing its extensive four-month tour, will be The Everyman Theatre's three performances this week.

Friday night and Saturday afternoon they will present Oscar Wilde's brilliant comedy of manners, "The Importance of Being Earnest." Saturday evening they will give Elsie Park Cowan's refreshing Canadian play, "The Last Caveman," preceded by Anton Chekov's madly Russian curtain-raiser, "The Marriage Proposal."

The Everyman Theatre has been on the road since last November, playing towns and cities from the west coast to Winnipeg, bringing theatre to the Canadian people who have felt its loss for so long.

Its players come from each of the four western provinces. One of them who takes leading roles in all productions is Miss Hilda Nual, formerly of Victoria, where she was a drama specialist and director of the drama club group at North Ward School. Under her guidance they wrote and produced several original plays. While in Victoria Miss Nual was accompanist for the Royal Victoria Concert Party, and the Wynne Shaw Dance Studio. "Good Night Caroline" was one of the plays she produced as guest director, for the Young Progressive Conservatives.

In "The Importance of Being Earnest" Hilda Nual takes the role of the charming Gwendoline Fairfax, proving her versatility as an actress with her portrayal of Natalya Stepanovna in "The Marriage Proposal."

The Solarium Junior League is sponsoring the Victoria presentations, and tickets are available at the Solarium Office, E 4821; David Spencer Limited or from members of the league.

Certain time at evening performances will be 8.15. Saturday matinee at 2.30.

Blanket Hot Dogs For Interest

Perk up a lagging appetite with stuffed frankfurters rolled in biscuit dough and served with cabbage salad.

Salad Plate—Place hot potato salad topped with hard-cooked egg on shredded cabbage. Complete the plate with buttered asparagus, shrimp, carrot fingers and lemon quarters.

Mixed Fruit Plate—Orange slices, avocado quarters and apple balls, garnished with radish roses. Serve with a hot bread, a dessert and tea or coffee.

California Lemon Pie—Bring following to boil in saucepan over direct heat: 1 cup water, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel. Then add: 5 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/2 cup cold water.

Cook over low heat until thickened, about 5 minutes. Stir constantly. Remove from heat. Then add separately, mixing well each time: 2 well-beaten egg yolks, 1 tablespoon butter, 6 tablespoons lemon juice.

Pour into an 8-inch baked or crumb crust pie shell. Top with this meringue: Beat 2 egg whites until frothy. Add 4 tablespoons sugar by teaspoons. Continue beating until eggs hold shape in peaks. Brown in moderate oven (325 deg. F.) for 5 to 10 minutes.

Quick Pick-up—Simplify the salad service with individual molded salads. Use apricot whole fruit nectar for flavor-giving liquid and add a bevy of fruits, celery, and nuts for texture.

Stuffed Celery—Separate stalks of celery, wash thoroughly. Fill with colored cream cheese or peanut butter. Replace stalks in original bunch, then wrap in wax paper or damp cloth and chill well. Slice in one-half-inch pieces.

Ivory Cream—1 tablespoon gelatine, 1/2 cup cold water, 2 cups milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 egg yolk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg white. Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. Scald milk in double boiler, add sugar and salt. Add slightly beaten egg yolk and cook 1/2 minutes longer. Add gelatine and stir. Add flavoring and cool until thick but not completely set. Beat with rotary egg beater until light and frothy. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white and pour into a mould and chill until firm. Serve with a fruit sauce.

Perfection Pancakes—Combine 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt. Beat 2 eggs; add 1/2 cup sour cream, 1 cup milk. Add then mix lightly. Drop by tablespoonsful onto hot greased griddle; brown both sides. Spread with preserves.

Norwegian Salad—1 cup each of cooked diced carrots, beets, potatoes, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1 cup diced cooked fish, 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice. Mix vegetables, fish and allspice. Add vinegar to taste or salad oil or French dressing if desired. Serve on bed of lettuce or endive.

Plantation Treat—Bake sweet potatoes, then split them open and fill yellow pockets with creamed chicken, ham or milk gravy containing crisp bits of fried salt pork.

Dorothy Dix

LOVELY GIRL MUST BECOME ADJUSTED TO NEW HOME IN NEW TOWN

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am in my early teens and am very lonely and miserable because just recently our family moved from a town we loved to one in which we are perfect strangers. But we had to do it because my father was offered a wonderful job and we needed the money. In my old home town I was popular with the kids and was always doing things with the group, but here, although I have tried very hard, I can't get in with the crowd.

I don't seem to be able to get along very well with my parents and they are always picking on me and blaming me for things I don't understand. I cry very easily and when I go to explain something, I get all broken up and can hardly talk, and I am confused even to myself. I feel I can't take much more of this being nagged continually. What shall I do?

CARMEN.

Answer: Sometimes it is easier for youngsters to tell their troubles to strangers than it is to their parents, so perhaps when your mother reads this letter in print she will realize how unhappy you are and will do something to cheer you up and to help you fit into your new home.

It is a very real hardship to have to leave the place in which you have grown up, where even the very streets are endeared to you by association, and where you have hosts of friends and are one of the gang. In the old home town you were a person of importance, but in the new home you are of no interest to anyone and you are lonesome, homesick and forlorn as if you were shipwrecked on a desert island.

CURE FOR LONELINESS

It takes courage to meet that situation with a smile and to set yourself to the task of adjusting yourself to new conditions and to making new friends, but that is the cure for your lonesomeness and homesickness. And it is something that you owe to your parents, for the change is hard on them, too. They also hated to break the ties of a lifetime.

600 Already Registered For July-August Scout, Cub Camps

Dates for the annual highlight feature of activities of Greater Victoria scouts and cubs — the camping periods on the grounds of colorful Camp Barnard, Sooke — were set at a meeting of the directors of the Victoria and District Boy Scout Association last week when Macgregor Macintosh Jr., 17, of the Oak Bay Troop, was named island representative to the world scout jamboree in Paris in August.

According to Freeman King, field commissioner, first "tent-town" of 1947 will be erected on the camp site by scout masters under the direction of the provincial association. It is known as a "Gilwell Camp" and will be held from June 21 to July 1.

First invasion of scouts to the Sooke layout will take place on July 5 and scouters will occupy the camp for the remainder of that month. In the first half of August cubs will take over the initial camp the first day of the month to the fifth; the second from August 7 to 11. Then the scouts will invade again in the middle of August.

The commissioner reported over 600 names had been registered to date for the 1947 camps. Many more applications are expected.

At the end of this month the scoutmasters will take over the camp for that week-end.

SCOUT FLOAT FOR PARADE

On Saturday of this week, members of the association will participate in the Victoria Lions Club flower day, in charge of E. A. (Ted) Estlin, while arrangements are at present being made to enter a scout float in the May 24 celebration program parades.

On May 17 the Lions Own Scout Troop, the senior unit in the scout movement here, will go on an all-night expedition. They will be conveyed to a certain area in the surrounding countryside, dropped for a 16-mile hike to a certain destination — with map references only as a guide — cook breakfast at the objective and then be picked up again by the trucks and returned to town.

Commissioner King reported that a big scout competition rally will be held at Beacon Hill Park on the afternoon of June 7. Twelve competitions are scheduled. They embrace various phases of scout training.

It was reported at the meeting that the association now possesses a truck to service the association at camp and otherwise. Maj. H. B. Hunter, district commissioner, and directors Fred Hawes and Mr. Estlin named as the committee to direct its activities.

Bert Cosby, night watchman, stands in the midst of a sea of rum puncheons, part of the cargo of 226 puncheons unloaded at Ogden Point docks Monday from the Canadian freighter, Cedar Rapids Victoria. D. M. Le Bourdias Condemns Canada's Mental Hospitals

"Canada's mental institutions are providing the inmates with flop house service, at the very best," D. M. Le Bourdias, social worker and writer, told members of the Victoria Gyro Club on Monday when he addressed them on the topic "Canada's Shame—Our Mental Hospitals."

Mr. Le Bourdias said the most important problem in this country today is the care and treatment of the 50,000 men and women who are confined in mental institutions.

"It is a national problem and it is the business of all of us to see that these Canadians, who are sick, are given the treatment which they deserve," he said.

"These unfortunates cannot speak for themselves. They bear a terrible stigma which others think of as shameful or as something to laugh about. We tend to forget that they are sick."

Mr. Le Bourdias explained that as the care of the mentally sick people was the concern of the province, there exists in this country nine different kinds of treatment and a great many varieties of care. Because some provinces feel they cannot afford to give these people decent treatment it should be the responsibility of the country, as a whole, to see that the proper amount is spent to give them what they deserve, he said.

Mr. Le Bourdias presented statistics which he had gathered during his many years inspecting institutions throughout Canada and the United States. He said the present cost per day to keep a person in a mental home was $1.03. He compared this amount with the cost of keeping a person in a prison and with keeping a person in a general hospital. "The cost of keeping a man in jail averages $2.00 a day and the cost of keeping a person in a general hospital averages from between $3.50 and $6.00 a day," he said.

He said of all Canadian provinces, B.C. had the best mental hospital. This, he said, was the hospital at Essondale. "Yet," he said, "the last time I was there I found that one of the women's wards was 103 per cent overcrowded. This should make you realize what conditions in other hospitals are."

Speaking of the home on Wilkinson Road, Mr. Le Bourdias said: "Colquitz was a jail at one time, as far as I am concerned, it is still a jail." Mr. Le Bourdias told of the terrible thoughts which people in this condition had when they knew they were being kept in a prison. In later remarks he termed the Colquitz home a "disgrace."

"If only more money was spent," Mr. Le Bourdias said, "I believe that within 25 years, instead of having to build additions to our hospitals, we could pull some of them down."

Hirohito Thanks MacArthur For New Japan Constitution

TOKYO (AP)—Emperor Hirohito paid his fourth visit to Gen. MacArthur's residence today while Japan waited vainly for some hint of the Supreme Commander's opinion on whether the country should choose a Socialist or a Conservative premier.

Japanese sources described it as a courtesy call to thank Gen. MacArthur for the inauguration of the new constitution, which strips Hirohito of his political powers — and presumably to thank him, too, for restoring the rising sun flag to government buildings.

As they met, the cabinet convened to draft an Imperial ordinance summoning the new Diet to meet May 20; and by that date, under the new constitution, Conservative Premier Shigeru Yoshida's cabinet must resign.

Socialists are claiming the right to name the next premier, since their party won a plurality of Diet seats in the recent elections. Experienced observers said a coalition of conservatives might seek the post, however, since Conservatives (of several parties) hold a Diet majority.

Chorus of Contadine and Gondoliers

It has been said, in order to produce traditional Gilbert and Sullivan opera, that it is necessary to have principals with good lyric voices who are competent actors; thorough musical training from the last row of the chorus to the ultimate member of the orchestra, plus a joyous spirit, plenty of sparkle and color, good timing and fast movement.

If this is true, Monday night's production of "The Gondoliers" by the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Society was a thoroughly successful show. But quite apart from all that, the society, Melvin Knudsen, the musical director, and W. Taylor, stage director, are to be warmly congratulated on a production that rivalled, and in many ways out-distanced, touring professional companies seen here in the past.

The stage of the Royal Theatre was a riot of color in pleasing patterns as peasants and courtiers swung smoothly and rhythmically through the chorus movements. The charming and lively dances, such as the "Cachucha" and the gypsy seen in the second act were the work of the dancing instructor, Katharine Costain.

SOLOISTS GOOD

Dorothy Kenward's clear, silvery-toned soprano was ideally suited to her role of Gianetta, the peasant girl who marries one of the gondoliers. Whether in solo, duet or ensemble, her voice was always delightfully true and sweet.

Bernice Fawcett as Casilda, the queen of Barataria, looked lovely, acted with great skill and conviction and displayed a voice of good range, warm and rich in quality. Joined by Alan White, who used a good voice with ease and assurance, they sang the lovely duet, "There Was a Time" with particular success.

Mildred Allen gave a completely satisfactory performance, both as to voice and acting, and this can also be said of Netta Chastell, who has an astonishingly warm and colorful contralto.

Frank Dunn and Don Beale were the two gondoliers. Both displayed a good sense of humor and more than competent voices. Frank Dunn's singing of "Take a Pair of Sparkling Eyes" brought an enthusiastic response from the delighted audience. As the joint kings of Barataria, they played well together and showed excellent voice blend in duets.

Rod Dunn's splendid interpretation of the Duke was one of the highlights of the evening, due to a good voice and fine business and comedy sense. W. F. Cox was well cast and handled his role with smooth competence.

CHORUS OUTSTANDING
The minor parts were well taken and showed much promise, vocally, for future leads. The chorus was remarkable for its tonal beauty and was superbly modulated and blended throughout.

Settings were simple and colorful, costumes splendid and make-up unusually good. The orchestral framework, provided by members of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra under Mr. Knudsen's direction, was in no small measure, responsible for a great part of the success of the production.

Sponsored by the Gyro Club of Victoria, in aid of their charities, the show will be repeated tonight and tomorrow at 8:15.

Mrs. B. Grossman, 1714 Hollywood Crescent, has donated a picture of what is believed to be the first board of water commissioners in the city, to the City Hall. The picture has been in the possession of Mrs. Augustus Borde, whose husband is the central figure in the picture. None of the other commissioners have been identified as yet, and the exact date of the picture is not known. Members of the city clerk's staff are searching the records to find out who was on the first board and when it was named.

Sparkling Comedy Booked At Royal

"The Perfect Marriage" is the title of Hal Wallis' latest production for Paramount, and it is also a very apt description of the sparkling romantic comedy which opens Thursday at the Royal Theatre. For this Loretta Young-David Niven starrer is a perfect marriage of light-hearted, sophisticated comedy and moving, tender romance, produced, directed and acted by a perfect combination of film talent.

CAPITOL THEATRE
Louis Hayward is playing opposite his first blonde since returning to films after his absence in war service.

Both glamorous Hedy Lamarr, with whom he is starred in the yet released "Strange Woman", and exotic Jane Russell, for whom he played the romantic interest in "Young Widow", are brunettes.

Now he's starring with lovely Barbara Britton in Columbia's "The Return of Monte Cristo" at the Capitol Theatre. Barbara's an ash blonde.

YORK THEATRE
In the recent announcement of Stalin Prize Awards, four of the cameramen who participated in the filming of "Russia on Parade," new Soviet full-length documentary film currently at the York Theatre, were among those to win this coveted honor.

B. Makaseyev, U. Mongolovskiy, S. Semenov and A. Shechetyev, well-known Soviet photographers, received the award for the exceptionally fine quality of their work on the first all-color film of the annual physical culture festival in Moscow.

Given 30 Days
Charles B. Myers, who was found guilty of driving a car while intoxicated by Magistrate H. C. Hall Monday morning in city police court, appeared before the court at a special session in the afternoon and was sentenced to 30 days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for one year.

Evidence given the court was that Myers, driving south on Government Street with intent to proceed up the southeast driveway to the Parliament Buildings, was involved in an accident with an automobile proceeding east on Belleville Street in charge of P.O. John Rogers of the R.C.N.

Burns' Manager Retires After Long Service

C. A. Bovey, manager of the Victoria branch of Burns & Co. Ltd., for the past six years, who has served with the company since coming to Canada from his native England, in 1911, has resigned his post and will retire here.

A staff dinner will be given in his honor tonight, at which time a presentation will be made.

Beginning as an office boy, Mr. Bovey later became stenographer to the sales manager. He was a salesman at Calgary and later assistant sales manager and then manager. He opened branch houses for the company through Saskatchewan at Regina, Saskatoon, Moose Jaw and Prince Albert.

He was sales manager at Seattle and represented the company in Japan from 1922 to 1930. He was sales manager at Vancouver prior to coming to Victoria.

Mr. Bovey who resides here with his wife, is a member of the Kiwanis, Union and Oak Bay Golf Clubs. There is one son, Edward, who is sales manager for Griffith Laboratories at Toronto.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Fredric March celebrates his 50th screen appearance in Samuel Goldwyn's "The Best Years of Our Lives," now at the Oak Bay Theatre, in which he co-stars with Myrna Loy, Dana Andrews, Teresa Wright and Virginia Mayo. March made his screen debut in "The Dummy" in 1929, laying the foundation of one of Hollywood's most brilliant careers. It is conservatively estimated that his pictures have grossed more than $250,000,000.

2,000 Saanich Pupils To Take Part In Music Festival

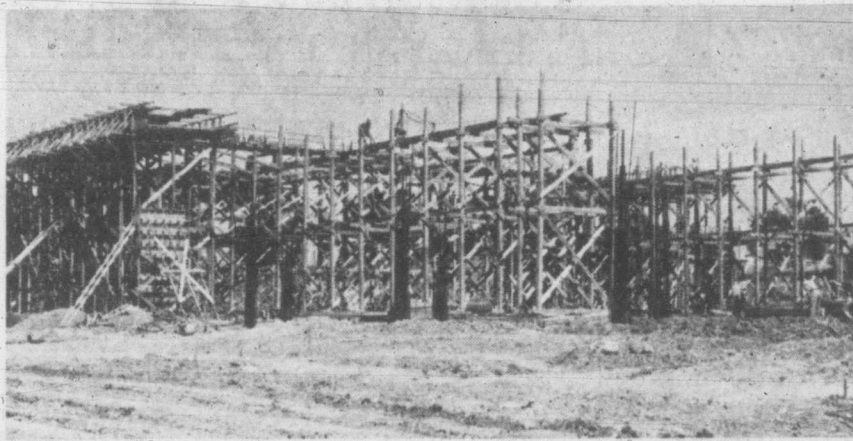

About 2,000 children from elementary and high schools in the inner wards of Saanich will visit Cloverdale School auditorium on Thursday and Friday of this week to take part in a non-competitive festival of songs.

This will represent the climax to several weeks devoted to practicing certain test pieces. Rhythm bands of the primary grades will also participate in this two-day festival which is a sequel to the music meet held a year ago.

Frank Tupman will offer constructive comments as the various groups present the required songs for their particular grade level supplemented by a selection of their own choices. G. Bower will adjudicate the work of the rhythm bands.

Besides the school sessions from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., concerts will be held at Cloverdale School on Thursday and Friday evenings to enable the public to hear some of the groups taking part in the daily sessions. Variety will be added with the appearance of the Esquimalt Boys' Band on Thursday evening, and

Start Pouring Concrete For Arena Next Week

A forest of timbers, representing the forms for the columns to support the barrel-type roof, is growing at the site of the Memorial Arena on Blanshard Street. Workmen for Bennett and White, the contractors, said today that first pouring of concrete would begin within a week. With materials coming in as needed, the work has gone ahead rapidly since the contract was given this spring and approximately 50 men are on the job now, half carpenters and half laborers. A concrete hoist will be used when the forms are ready and each column form will become a rib extending over in the contour of the barrel-shape roof.

the Victoria Junior Symphony on Friday night.

The music meet seeks to give children an opportunity to sing to a large audience of pupils, to sing before parents in the evening and to permit children to hear the work of other classes. It also enables teachers and pupils to receive helpful suggestions for improvement, thus raising the standard of teaching music.

Schools which will participate include Mt. Douglas and Mt. View High Schools, Cloverdale, Cedar Hill, Tillicum, Tolmie, McKenzie Avenue, Strawberry Vale and Gordon Head and Craigflower.

The general organization of the sessions is under the direction of H. I. Bigsby, supervisor of music for Saanich and Esquimalt; D. Parfitt, M. Dunnett, W. Kitley, A. Cullen, Margaret Patterson, Kathleen Horner and Doris Ayliffe.

Outlines Procedure For Infant Milk Cards Renewal

Evaporated milk cards may be renewed if necessary, at the end of the period for which coupons were previously granted. W. A. Hick of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board ration administration at Victoria, said today.

He outlined the details of the renewal.

"In each case, the applicant must present the used stub together with a new R.B. 174 application form, with item 10 completed by a medical authority, or a new certificate of need signed by a physician, public health nurse, day nursery, well-baby clinic or other recognized public health agency.

"This procedure also applies to medical cases unless they are of a definitely permanent nature."

Mr. Hick said that a number of persons were going to the city hall to make application for renewal of evaporated milk coupons for their infants, but did not have a doctor's certificate or renewal stub, thus necessitating delay and inconvenience.

British Movies To Be Made In Canada Soon

HAMILTON, Bermuda (CP)—British National Films, founded by wealthy Lady Yule, intends establishing studios in Canada to produce "bigger and better" British movies, Louis Jackson, managing director and executive producer, said in an interview here Monday.

Jackson said he intends to fly to Montreal next week to consolidate plans.

British National Films is one of the large independent film companies in Britain and is a rival of the J. Arthur Rank organization, which already has entered the Canadian field.

U.S. Swim Champion Visitors

Two of the outstanding women swimmers in the United States, Nancy Merki, left, and Sue Zimmerman, are shown with local Flying 'Y' coach, Archie McKinnon upon arrival in the city yesterday. Miss Merki who, along with Miss Zimmerman, is a protégé of Jack Cody of the Portland Multnomah Swimming Club, recently became co-holder of the American individual championship award at the U.S. title meet in Seattle. She is the American 300-yard medley champion, and in the recent gala annexed two firsts, a second and a third. Miss Zimmerman captured the American 100 and 200-yard backstroke titles in the same event, and both girls are rated as Olympic material. They will spend a few days holidaying in Victoria before returning home.

Strong Field Assured For B.C. Amateur Golf

Forty-fourth annual British Columbia men's amateur golf championship will be played over the Uplands Golf Club May 22 to 25 inclusive. Entries will be limited to 140 players and to those with handicaps of 16 and under. A large entry will be on hand from Vancouver. Lyle Herschman, defending champion; Ken Black, former Canadian amateur champ and many times B.C. amateur champ; Bill Mawhinney, Doug Bajus, Bob Plommer, B.C. closed champ; Walt McElroy, Monty Hill, Eddie Sharp and a host of others.

Also expected are a number of entries from across the line, as a number of the American clubs are showing an interest in this tourney. Among local shotmakers taking part will be Vic Palmer, Bill McCall, Bob Morrison, Harold Lineham, Dr. Bigelow, Alan Taylor, Eric Hiberson, Roy Strannix, Fred Bakanta, Bill and Walter Newcombe, Gordon Verley and a number of others.

The Uplands course is in excellent shape at present and by the time the competitors are ready to tee off it should be tops, and a real test of golf.

Entries will close at 6 May 19.

TEST MATCHES

A series of test matches will be held in Victoria on three successive Sundays in June. There will be three 18-hole medal rounds to be played over three different courses. The courses selected will be announced at a later date. Certain low handicap golfers will be eligible for these matches. Those eight or 10 golfers who medal the best rounds will be eligible for the Willingdon Cup trial matches, which are to be played over 72 holes: 36 holes in Victoria on July 20 over two courses and 36 holes in Vancouver over two courses. Local golfers will be vying with Vancouver golfers for the top spots in these final trial matches. From the information available at the end of the 72-hole medal test the directors of the B.C. Amateur Golf Association will then be in a position to pick the team to represent B.C. in competing for the Willingdon Cup in Quebec in August.

The Jack Matson Memorial Trophy competition is to be held this year at the Colwood Club on June 1. It will be an 18-hole medal play competition on full handicap and open to all golfers belonging to recognized clubs on the island. The trophy goes to the low net winner, and there will be prizes for the runners up and low gross.

Rain Costs Major Clubs Lot Of Cash

If it doesn't stop raining soon those deep furrows on the foreheads of the baseball magnates are liable to become permanent. This is the time of the year when hope springs eternal with the fans.

Thus the customers are ready and eager to beat a fast pace to the ball parks. They want to get a look at the newcomers and their old favorites and get a chance to root the club with a first division chance as that high estate most likely won't be too permanent especially when the loaded clubs begin to hit their strides.

Rains which washed out the entire New York Giants series with Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs at the Polo Ground are estimated to have cost the club around $150,000. It is figured that at least 120,000 fans, excited by the Giants' sweep of a three-game set with the world champion St. Louis Cardinals would have witnessed the games. Also the initial National League New York-born appearance of Hank Greenberg at the Polo Grounds wearing a Pittsburgh uniform was expected to attract many persons.

WHITE SOX SUFFER

The steady second division finishing Chicago White Sox, suddenly finding themselves enjoying the luxury of a first place outfit were hit hard by the postponement of four games at Comiskey Park. The loss of a Sunday game when the Chicago fans were highly excited over the team especially hit them right between their eyes. There aren't many who believe the Sox will remain up long with the elite and now is the time to cash in on it.

In all there have been 48 postponements in 21 playing dates. There have been 27 washouts in the National League and 21 in the American.

The entire card was drowned out yesterday including the scheduled night game between the St. Louis Cardinals and Braves at Boston.

EXPERT MORE TRADES

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball men are looking for a series of player trades, in the wake of Brooklyn's sale of Kirby Higbie to Pittsburgh and the Ron Northey-Harry Walker transaction between the Phillies and St. Louis Cards, with the May 15 deadline date only 10 days away.

Brooklyn still must pare five or six men from its 34-man roster and there are several choice trades items dangling in Branch Rickey's show window. Most of the Dodgers' surplus talent cannot be shipped to the minors without first asking waivers from the other clubs in the league.

Howie (Stretch) Schultz, a first baseman who has been out of a job since Jackie Robinson joined the ball club, can be had, Rickey is understood to be asking close to $75,000.

The Phillies are in the short-stop market. Although Skeeter Newcome and Ralph Lapointe have been plugging the gap, manager Ben Chapman has his eye on Stan Rojek of Rickey's stable.

GIANTS NEED PITCHERS

Rex Barney and possibly Vic Lombardi might be available to the pitcher-poor New York Giants who so far have shown interest only in Hal Gregg, Joe Hatten or Ralph Branca. The Dodgers naturally have eyed Johnny Mize with interest but have no chance of luring the home run slugger away from the Polo Grounds.

Despite Lenny Merullo's fine spring showing, Chicago Cubs still are in need of a shortstop and Cincinnati should be in the mood to dispose of some of its high class catching for a centre fielder.

St. Louis needs another right-handed starting pitcher and could stand a little righthanded batting power.

Rennie And Taylor Cup Soccer Final

Wednesday League footballers will wind up their Rennie and Taylor Cup series tomorrow afternoon at Macdonald Park at 2.30 with Spencers meeting Navy in the sudden-death final.

Spencers moved into the final by virtue of a bye when all three teams ended in a tie at the end of the round robin series. Navy defeated Bays in their semifinal last week.

New York Rangers Sell Two Veterans

NEW YORK (CP)—New York Rangers of the National Hockey League today announced the outright sale of centre Albert (AB) Demarco of North Bay, Ont., and defenceman Joe Cooper of Winnipeg, to Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League. Demarco, 31, acquired from Boston Bruins early in the 1943-44 campaign, finished last season with nine goals and 10 assists for 19 points. Cooper, 33, joined the Rangers in 1938, was traded to Chicago Black Hawks in 1939 and returned to the New Yorkers last season.

Legion Blast Three P. And N. Pitchers For 16 To 10 Win

Canadian Legion, defending champions of the Senior Amateur Baseball League, unleashed their heavy artillery on three Pitzer & Nex hurlers at Macdonald Park last night. In a wild free-scoring ball game, the veterans pushed 16 runs across the plate to snatch their first win of the young season, 16 to 10.

Young Bernie Anderson, of high school no-hit fame, started on the hill for the gamblers, but failed to last the first inning, to retire in favor of manager Rosy McLeilan after being touched for four runs and five hits. McLeilan held the Vets scoreless until the fifth, when he was the victim of another four-run outburst.

Al Turcotte, another high school star, took over and throttled the rally, striking out Lloyd Cann to retire the side. Wildness on the part of Turcotte in the sixth, and successive hits by Mickey Smith and Jack Walker accounted for four runs. A single tally in the seventh and three in the eighth accounted for the winning total.

CANN STEADY

Making his first start of the season, veteran Lloyd Cann pitched steady ball although being hit hard on occasions. A six-run rally in the last of the seventh, highlighted by pinch hitter Stan Curry's home run with the bases loaded, pulled the Pitzer & Nex nine within three runs of the winners, but Cann shut the door the rest of the way.

Al Parkins with four for four and Harry Barber, who picked up three for five, led the Legion at the plate. Barber drove in four tallies, with Parkins' banging home three. Wright of Legion and Glacey of Pitzer & Nex connected for triples, while Smith and Cann each poled a double. Each side came up with a smart double killing.

Short score follows:
Canadian Legion.....16 17 7

Esquimalt, Army And Navy In Senior A Softball Wins

Esquimalt Meat Market and Army and Navy Vets chalked up impressive victories in the senior A softball loop last night. Jim Lackie's men trounced Blue Bird 11 to 2 to move into sole occupancy of first place in the standings, while Vets took the measure of Douglas Tire 5 to 3 to register their first victory of the season.

Gar Taylor went to the hill for Esquimalt and came up with a neat six-hit job for his win. He was never in serious trouble, allowing single runs in the second and eighth innings. The meat dealers scored once in the second, broke loose for a six-run uprising in the third, added another in the fifth and three more in the eighth.

Blue Birds failed to give Stan Tennings much support and were guilty of seven miscues during the evening. He allowed seven hits.

ON THE STRENGTH of their splendid showing against St. Andrews here Saturday Victoria United should be a definite contender in the forthcoming Province Cup competition to determine provincial champions. But for a lapse on the part of the local back division in the first half hour play the United could easily have finished on the right end of the score against the Saints. Management of the United would have been well-advised to have replaced Rookie Wright at centrehalf before half-time. It was clearly evident after the first 10 minutes that Wright was off form and an early substitution might have prevented at least two of the Saints' first three goals. When a club is well stocked with good reserve material there is no object in leaving a player on the field if he is seen to be having trouble getting into stride.

AFTER WATCHING St. Andrews play for 90 minutes it is easy to understand why they have had a couple of brawls in recent games on the mainland. From all appearances the mainland clubs have been getting away with everything short of mayhem. I notice the referee for Saturday's game on the mainland between St. Saviour and North Shore came in for some strong criticism and there is every indication that weak officiating has been the direct cause of the trouble. From the moment they stepped on the field Saturday the Saints elected to play rugged football. During the first 45 minutes the Victoria players felt more elbows and body interference than they had in all previous matches this season combined. It was not until the second half that Referee George Barnes elected to warn the visiting players. There is no doubt the Vancouver teams are used to playing more robust football than the clubs are accustomed to here. I am not suggesting a soccer game should develop into any pink tea party but all questionable tactics when a player is in scoring position should be pulled up along with any dangerous play.

JUST HOW STRONG the Victoria Athletics rate as contenders in the Western International League baseball campaign will be fairly well established within the next couple of weeks when they tangle at home with Spokane, Vancouver, Tacoma and Bremerton in that order. These all-important series get started Thursday night with the arrival here of the league-leading Spokane Indians. A farm club of the Brooklyn Dodgers the minor league version of "Dem Bums" has been setting a hot pace, to keep up in front of the class B circuit.

OTHER THREE CLUBS have shown evidence of power and if the A's can play 500 or better ball against them then they will have to be reckoned with in the final drive to the pennant. Although business manager Reg Patterson continues to keep his silence the grapevine informs me the Victoria club is going to experience further bolstering by the arrival shortly of at least two starting pitchers and a shortstop of Coast League calibre. So don't be surprised if new faces suddenly make their appearance at the ball park one of these nights.

Game was given added life when Umpire Doc Regels got into an argument with Manager Norbert over the latter's right to stand on the dugout steps while the local club was in the field. Regels finally ordered Norbert into the dugout. In the last of the fifth Regels thumbed Wenatchee catcher Nick Pesut out of the game for swearing after a ball-and-strike decision. A's defeat did not alter their position in the standings as in the only other game last night league-leading Spokane Indians defeated second-place Vancouver 7 to 2.

Joe Blankenship Gets Starting Job Tonight

Joe Blankenship, who has come up with smart relief pitching chores for Victoria Athletics, has earned himself his first starting assignment. The deliberate right-hander will be out tonight to halt Wenatchee Chiefs and square the current Western International League baseball series at one win apiece. Last night the cellar-dwelling Washington club put over an 8 to 5 victory before close to 2,000 fans.

In announcing his pitching choice for tonight, after the local club had gone under in the opener, Manager Ted Norbert remarked: "Blankenship has earned himself a starting job."

Too many walks tell the story of last night's defeat and the sudden ending to the A's winning streak at three games. Still unable to control a streak of wildness, southpaw Bill Woop blew his chances to win by too many walks. Of the eight runs scored off the lefty four of them were directly due to free passes. In fairness to Woop it must be pointed out that only three of the eight runs were earned as the Victoria club was charged with three errors. Woop walked seven and struck out six. He really had trouble finding the plate in the sixth when he loaded the bases on walks and Wenatchee put over what proved to be the winning runs. Woop gave up six hits.

On the mound for Wenatchee was Bob Condon who limited the A's to nine hits and was effective in the pinches. The slim right-hander used an underhand pitch effectively, combining it with a tricky slider.

WHITE HITS HOMER

Bill White, Victoria's rangy right fielder, did his best to keep the local club in the game. In the fourth, with Wenatchee nursing a 2 to 1 margin, White lined the ball over the centre-field fence with two runners aboard. He followed the circuit blow with a double and single.

After Rhyne's two-base hit against the right field fence, a wild pitch and passed ball had given Wenatchee a single run in the fifth they made the walks pay off in the sixth. Successive passes to Barr, Williams and Haskell loaded the bags with nobody out. Woop made a game effort to get out of the hole as he struck out Winter and made Condon hit to the infield forcing Barr at the plate. On a three and two pitch to Warner the outfielder slashed a low liner directly at second baseman Hafenecker, but the latter broke to his left and it went for a hit to clear the bases, the runners all being on the move.

In the seventh Woop left the game after Andrade singled and Barr drew another walk. Reliever Bill Rothrock gave up hits to Williams and Haskell for another pair of runs. Rothrock was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth and Jim Gibson worked out the ninth.

RALLY CUT SHORT

A's got a tough break in the sixth when they loaded the bases with nobody out only to have Patterson line into a double play, and Mastro ground out 98 kill off what looked like a promising rally.

Game was given added life when Umpire Doc Regels got into an argument with Manager Norbert over the latter's right to stand on the dugout steps while the local club was in the field. Regels finally ordered Norbert into the dugout. In the last of the fifth Regels thumbed Wenatchee catcher Nick Pesut out of the game for swearing after a ball-and-strike decision.

A's defeat did not alter their position in the standings as in the only other game last night league-leading Spokane Indians defeated second-place Vancouver 7 to 2.

Woman Charged With Arson Acquitted By Assize Jury

Mrs. Katherine Gordon, charged with arson in connection with two fires in a dwelling house at 1033 Pemberton Road last June 17, property of the Royal Trust Company, was acquitted by an Assize Court jury shortly after noon today, after it had deliberated 10 minutes.

Mr. Justice J. M. Coady completed his charge to the jury, which retired at 12.27. They reached a verdict at 12.37.

"If a person is so drunk as to be incapable of forming intent to commit the act, that is a good defence," Mr. Justice Coady told the jury as he referred to "the question of drunkenness" as an important defence for the jury's consideration.

Mr. Justice Coady reviewed evidence which revealed the property was registered in the name of the Royal Trust Company and that Mr. Gordon had paid $1,500 of the purchase price with a balance of $1,000 owing to the Royal Trust.

Joseph McKenna, defence counsel, in his address to the jury, said the acts of the person who set the fires, were "the acts of a brain not functioning, a mind not responsible."

Carew Martin, K.C., Crown prosecutor, contended the whole action was that of a person who knew what she was doing.

WOMAN'S EVIDENCE

In giving evidence late Monday afternoon, Mrs. Gordon testified that she and her husband had been drinking Saturday and Sunday and that she consumed a bottle of gin Monday, the date of the offence. She said she remembered nothing about the affair, except that she "remembered seeing someone, in uniform."

Leo Lincoln Gordon, the husband, said they had both been drinking Saturday and Sunday. He said he returned home from work Monday night to learn that his wife had been taken to the police station. He said he found the windows of the house open and smelled smoke.

A statement that she could burn "our house down if I want to," was attributed to Mrs. Gordon by Robert Taylor, former deputy chief of the Victoria Fire Department, now retired, Monday afternoon.

"I asked her if she started the first fire and she replied yes," Mr. Taylor testified of his conversations with the accused following the two fires.

When queried by Mr. McKenna, Mr. Taylor said: "I would say she had been drinking." He said he had used the word "intoxicated" at the preliminary hearing in police court.

RUBBISH IN BASEMENT

On the first call at 2.09 in the afternoon, Mr. Taylor said he found the basement floor on fire with rubbish spread around the furnace. On the second call at 4.26 on the same afternoon, he said there was rubbish "again piled around the furnace and on top of the furnace." The rubbish he said consisted of kindling and paper.

"After the first fire call I asked Mrs. Gordon how the fire started and she said she did not know," Mr. Taylor testified. "I asked her why she did not telephone the fire department and she said she did not know."

After the second call, the house was on fire with the basement ceiling badly burned and just breaking into the dining room, Mr. Taylor said. In answer to a question of Mr. Justice Coady, Mr. Taylor said there were houses on both sides of the one in question, about 50 feet distant. They would have been endangered if the fire continued to spread," he added.

Other witnesses at the Monday hearing were: John Fraser, in charge of the real estate department of the Royal Trust Company; Victor DiCastri, senior examiner in the Land Registry office at Victoria; Lieut. H. S. Carter of the city fire department; Constables John Deans Blackstock, and Norman T. Galbraith of the city police department, and Dr. David Burman.

Cecil Solly Sees Improvement In Victoria Gardens

Private gardens in Victoria have improved remarkably since the war and are on par with gardens of Northwest United States, according to Cecil Solly, of Seattle, noted horticulturist, who is attending Victoria's Spring Garden Festival which opened Monday.

Mr. Solly, whose garden feature appears weekly in the Victoria Times, said although gardens in Canada and the United States had improved considerably they were yet lagging behind European plant growers.

"England, Belgium, Holland and Norway are 20 years ahead of our growers," he said. "Despite the war and adverse conditions, they managed to keep up production."

The garden authority said Americans were now strongly attempting to be on the par with European growers, and many had come to Victoria for the express purpose of seeing what new plants local amateur horticulturists had introduced from Europe.

The seaside gardens of Oak Bay were inspected by hundreds of visitors from the mainland and the United States this morning. The visitors called on the homes of E. N. Liersch, 237 King George Terrace; J. G. Worth, 273 King George Terrace; E. D. Todd, "Dainhurst," 508 Island Road; Mrs. Gordon Hepburn, 1069 Beach Drive; Mrs. H. R. Beaven, 1176 Beach Drive.

In the afternoon the visitors inspected the gardens of R. W. Mayhew, M.P., 3125 Beach Drive; S. Steyn, 3135 Beach Drive; R. H. Edgell, 3285 Weald Ave.; G. A. Yardley, 3285 Weald Ave.; G. S. Brown, 3320 Weald Ave.

Among the visitors attending the garden week are: Mrs. John Morris Holcomb, president of Washington State Federation of Garden Clubs; Mrs. H. D. Hayes, state treasurer; Mrs. R. Millikin, director of Snoqualmie district; Mrs. J. S. Briggs, vice-director of Snoqualmie; Mrs. J. J. Lenz, chairman.

This evening, W. P. D. Pemberton, will speak on "outstanding plants as grown in Victoria gardens." W. H. A. Preece, will also give a running commentary on the growing of plants.

Water Supply Outlook For Province Good

The water supply outlook for the whole of British Columbia is good with above normal run-off indicated for the Columbia and Kootenay Rivers and about average run-off to Okanagan Lake, providing normal temperatures and precipitation prevail during the run-off period.

This is the conclusion of V. L. Mosher, assistant hydraulic engineer for the water rights branch of the provincial lands and forests department. It means that fruit growers and others using irrigation in the interior of the province may expect no difficulties in securing water this year.

Latest report of the B.C. snow surveys indicates the probable inflow into Okanagan Lake will be less than originally indicated April 1. The April precipitation averaged only 54 per cent of a 10-year normal.

"If precipitation during the remaining run-off months is less than normal, a slightly smaller run-off than forecast in the April 1 report can be expected," Mr. Mosher said in his report to R. C. Farrow, comptroller of water rights.

Conductors and members of the various choral groups taking part in the May 24 celebrations are reminded that general rehearsals have been called for Sunday afternoons, May 11 to 18 from 3 to 4, in the auditorium of Centennial Church, Gorge Road.

Search For Missing Plane Enters Second Week Today

Search for the missing Trans-Canada Air Lines transport and its 15 passengers, including three crew members, entered its second week today with the swirling waters of the Gulf of Georgia believed to hold the secret of the plane's mysterious disappearance.

Last night the newly-commissioned Canadian frigate Antigonish joined the search with her modern anti-submarine gear and echo-sounding apparatus.

After an all-night search, Antigonish has swept an area five miles wide from Breakwater Island, off the southeast end of Gabriola Island, to Sands Head near Vancouver.

So far the frigate has reported no contact, but today she is steaming on a new bearing. The underwater detection equipment used by the Antigonish is still on the secret list.

A naval ground search party of 10 men is assisting R.C.A.F. search parties in scouring the Gulf Islands areas.

The widespread search is still centred off Gabriola Island, where residents believed they had seen the aircraft flying low after it lost contact with the Vancouver airport control tower.

Late Monday, Sqdn. Ldr. H. C. Stewart and Flt. Lt. D. H. Ingles, who directed the aerial search, interviewed persons on the island who had reported sighting the aircraft. Nearby planes roared overhead, crew members scanning the waters for any sign of wreckage.

The island-spotted sea around Nanaimo was also scoured by searchers, as was the area extending northward.

Air-sea rescue authorities issued an appeal to residents of the Gulf Islands and the gulf coast, asking them to make periodic checks of tidal debris.

12,000 Chinese May Bring Their Families To Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Resources Minister Glen indicated in the Commons Monday that possibly as many as 12,000 Chinese in Canada will be eligible to bring their wives and children under 18 to the Dominion as a result of the proposed repeal of the Chinese Exclusion Act.

He estimated that approximately 3,547 of the Canadian-born or naturalized Chinese in Canada would take advantage of the repeal. In addition it was possible that more than 8,000 of the 26,000 unnaturalized Chinese in Canada would eventually become naturalized and qualify to bring in their wives and families.

His statement brought from Howard Green, P.C., Vancouver South, a warning that the relaxation of the regulations might bring an influx of Chinese as great as the present population of Chinese in Canada, which stands at more than 34,000.

Mr. Green said such an influx might cause a serious situation in British Columbia and force a change in government policy.

CLAUSES STUDIED

Mr. Glen spoke before the Commons gave second reading to the bill providing for the repeal of the Exclusion Act. He took the floor again when members began clause by clause study of the bill in committee.

He turned down a suggestion of C.C.F. members that all Chinese in Canada be given the same rights as other immigrants and be allowed to bring in their wives and families.

Among those making the suggestion was M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, who stated that if all vestige of discrimination were to be removed Chinese would have to be given the same rights as other immigrants. Otherwise, the government could not call itself "Liberal."

This brought Veterans Minister Mackenzie to his feet with the statement that it was the "biggest insult I ever heard of in this House" to be given a lecture on Liberalism by an "arch-socialist."

Mr. Glen said Mr. Coldwell was evading all the issues, because under his suggestion all Chinese whether citizens of Canada or not would be allowed to bring their wives and families to this country.

John Blackmore, S.C., Lethbridge, Alta., complained the measure was in effect telling British Columbia that the whole Chinese problem was being thrown into the province's lap.

Pains should be taken to see there was not an impossible number of Orientals allowed to congregate in British Columbia.

Believe Communists Backing Candy Strike

The Victoria Youth Action Committee announced last night, following a meeting, that they had found reason to believe the Communist party was the real element behind the children's agitation against the eight-cent chocolate bar and, that therefore they, the Youth Action Committee, would take no further steps to organize children for public demonstrations.

A spokesman for the committee said last night: "We have found the Communists originally instigated the 'unorganized' demonstrations of school children. They did this only because they are anxious to create any type of agitation. We thought the idea had come from the children themselves, and therefore we were willing to organize them. Now, we have found the real truth we will not have anything further to do with it."

The spokesman said many of the large and better-constructed placards in the Saturday parade were supplied to the children from "political groups."

John Hope, who acted as parade marshal on behalf of the Youth Action Committee, said this morning the committee had organized the children because they were anxious to stop all increase prices. "We had hoped housewives would follow the children's lead."

"Now," he said, "we believe the children were just being used as puppets while Communists pulled the strings. As the Youth Action Committee is non-political we will have nothing further to do with it."

"We were just being used as a political football," he said.

Many youth organizations all across the Dominion have now taken this stand. An Ottawa dispatch blamed the strike on a Communist youth organizations. "While we do not intend to demonstrate, we will not buy eight-cent chocolate bars ourselves," Mr. Hope said.

Bill To Nationalize All Transit In Britain Passed By Commons

LONDON (AP) — The Labor government's drive to nationalize Britain's key industries neared its final goal today with approval by the Commons of a measure to bring under public ownership all inland transport—railroads, buses, trucks, subways, streetcars and canals.

The bill now goes to the House of Lords, where heated opposition by the overwhelming Conservative majority is expected, but rejection of the measure by the upper house would force a constitutional crisis which might further restrict the already limited powers of the Lords.

"If the House of Lords attempts to frustrate the bill," Health Minister Bevan declared, "we shall set their resistance aside. Speaking for myself only, I would set the House of Lords aside anyway."

In the normal course, under British law, an adverse vote by the House of Lords would serve only to delay passage of the transport bill.

The government already has taken control of the coal mines, the Bank of England, air transport and the globe-girdling communications system of cable and wireless, and a bill to nationalize the power industry passed second reading in the Commons not long ago.

The House passed the $4,260,000,000 transport nationalization measure without a recorded vote Monday night after rejecting—308 to 194—an opposition motion by Conservative and Liberal members to reject the bill, most bitterly fought of all the nationalization proposals.

World Amateur Hockey Groups Settle Problems

QUEBEC (CP)—Harmony prevailed along the world amateur hockey front today as an outcome of the 30th annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association at which Canada acted as a peacemaker in effecting settlement of a dispute between the two British puck interests.

Dr. W. G. Hardy of Edmonton, brought a roar of approval from the delegates to the C.A.H.A. meeting in yesterday's final general session when he announced that the Scottish and British associations had "buried the hatchet."

Dr. Hardy said further meetings would be held about the possibility of the two groups joining. The Scottish body, through such a step, would gain affiliation with the Ligue Internationale de Hockey Sur Glace and would gain the right to obtain players from Canada.

A. W. Pickard of Regina, the new president of the C.A.H.A., said in an interview that Canada and the United States were assured of complete autonomy within the framework of the L.I.H.G. "by the terms of our affiliation with that body."

Dr. Hardy also issued a statement especially to counteract any impression that Canada might be allowing hockey control out of her hands.

Other officers elected at the closing session were: Vice-presidents, Norman Dawe, Montreal, and Doug Grimston, New Westminster; secretary, manager, George S. Dudley, Midland, Ont.; registrar-treasurer, W. A. Hewitt, Toronto.

Grimston won out in balloting for second vice-president over James Dumm of Winnipeg and Cliff Henderson of Moose Jaw, Sask.

Ranking Women Tennis Players Join Pro Ranks

NEW YORK (AP) — Pauline Betz and Mrs. Sarah Paulfrey Cooke announced Monday they had turned tennis professionals and would engage in a long series of matches against each other.

The two girls, among the better lookers tennis has produced, were suspended as amateurs by the United States Lawn Tennis Association last month when the news got around that Elwood Cooke, husband of Sarah, was offering to book them as professionals.

Monday's announcement occasioned small surprise, as Miss Betz' mother, out in Los Angeles, told newspapermen Saturday Pauline was about to enter the ranks of money players.

Pauline, present national and Wimbledon net queen, and Sarah, twice former national champion in 1941 and '45, will play their first "warm-up" match at Durham, N.C., May 16.

Early tilts are intended merely to get Mrs. Cooke in playing condition, it was explained. She has played little in the last year. The girls will not start keeping count until they play their first "official" matches in Los Angeles June 7 and 8. If all goes well, they expect to play abroad next year.

Miss Betz, four-time winner at Forest Hills, indicated she is giving up her amateur status without much regret.

"I've heard about all this money to be made as an amateur," she volunteered. "All I can say is that I haven't seen any of it."

In the last seven years Pauline and Sarah have met each other in tournaments 17 times. Miss Betz has won nine times, Mrs. Cooke eight times. On all but two occasions they went the limit of three sets.

U.B.C. GOLFERS LOSE

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — The University of Oregon golfers defeated the University of British Columbia, 24 to 3, Monday for the sixth straight golf victory of the season.

The Canadians' best ball team of Dave Daly and Ormy Hall scored a single point in the morning rounds while Dick Hanley collected the only U.B.C. singles scores in the afternoon play by taking Glen Spivey.

INTERMEDIATE SOCCER

Saanich Thistles and Oak Bay, top elevens of the Intermediate Soccer League, will meet Saturday at Heywood Avenue grounds in the lower island final of the Davie Cup series. Winner of the game will play Nanaimo in the final round for the island championship.

BASEBALL TRADE

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Hollywood Stars announced today the straight trade of pitcher Frankie Dasso to Sacramento for pitcher Hugh Orphan. Both are right-handers.

Dasso, 29, won 12 games for the Stars last season, but had notched only one victory against four defeats this year. Orphan, 28, up from Wenatchee, had won four, lost two for the Solons.

Estimated 30,000 In Spain's Jails Held On Political Charges

MADRID (Reuter) — A wave of arrests of leftists has followed the increased political activity in Spain caused by Franco's proclamation of his draft law of succession to make Spain a kingless monarchy.

Although a few monarchists have been taken into custody as a result of street incidents, they have up till now been almost immune from arrest.

How many leftists—that is to say people ranging from moderate republicans to Communists—are in jail at present is impossible to say.

The sole government figures available claim only 6,000 persons are serving sentences for offences against the safety of the state. But even if that figure were correct, it takes no account of the many thousands held awaiting trial.

In Madrid's five prisons alone there are perhaps 6,000 or 7,000 prisoners, including those awaiting trial. Throughout the country the total is probably not below 30,000.

Chief attention is paid by the police to the Communist Party as being the best organized. They control the guerrilla forces in Spain, which may be generously estimated at 3,000 or 4,000 strong. Other guerrilla groups run by the socialists and the anarchists are far less important.

The Communists, along with the anarchists, socialists and republicans, form part of the Alliance of Democratic Forces, which was set up over a year ago to unify all leftist opposition to Gen. Franco.

But circumstances have not proved propitious for this union and the alliance has really scarcely functioned at all since last summer.

Metz, Corcoran Shake Forget Differences

CHICAGO (AP) — The heralded one-punch altercation between golfer Dick Metz and Fred Corcoran simmered to a handshaking close Monday as the executive committee of the Professional Golfers Association simultaneously announced new duties for Corcoran, P.G.A. tournament manager.

President Ed Dudley of the P.G.A. said the two men had shaken hands and agreed to "drop the matter" before a closed session of the executive committee.

Dudley also issued a statement saying that Corcoran had "assumed new duties as promotional director for all activities of the association" and that his new "publicity bureau" would be opened in New York.

P.G.E. Will Cost $50,000,000; Will Open Many Rich Acres In British Columbia

Premier John Hart is now in Ottawa endeavoring to raise $50,000,000 to complete the famed P.G.E. Railroad.

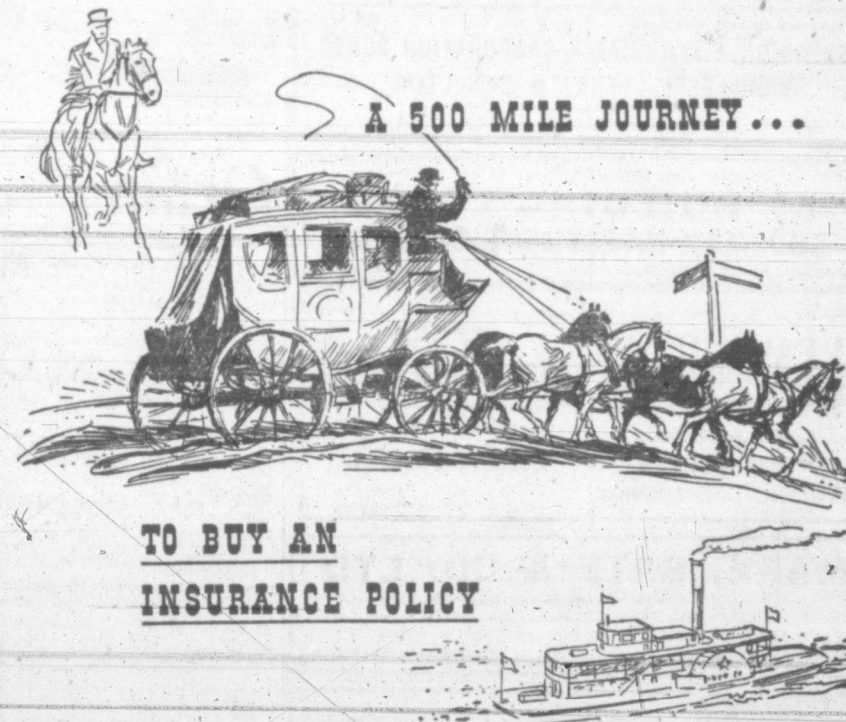

In the meantime, wind of the new possibilities has reached U.S. interests who would like to see a quick land route to Alaska developed through B.C., but backed by U.S. capital. Mr. Hart seems to look on offers of the Canadian-American Railroad Development Co., a Delaware firm reportedly strongly financed by U.S. capital, as being a last resort. His delay in giving any details of these offers, which were revealed recently in a U.S. newspaper article, has been coupled with his statement that he would continue his negotiations with the Dominion government and the two transcontinental railway companies, "in an effort to get them to join with

B. C. in developing the Great Northern territory in the interests of B.C. and Canada generally."

Whatever the final arrangement may be, it looks as though old P.G.E. may yet be nicknamed "Pretty Great Expectations." A new frontier is at its doorstep, and with millions of people in England and Europe anxious to come to Canada, they could scarcely have a better start than in the fertile valleys of the Peace or the coal and oil fields of the Mackenzie.

The complete history of the P.G.E., with pictures, is carried in this week's Star Weekly, now on sale at your magazine dealers. Learn the possibilities of the great northern section of British Columbia.

Star Weekly is distributed on Vancouver Island by Lovick's News Agency, Victoria, B.C.

TO BUY AN INSURANCE POLICY

In 1845, Hugh C. Baker a Hamilton banker, felt the urgent desire to obtain security for his wife and children. But there was not a single Canadian life insurance company in existence at that time.

So Mr. Baker covered the 500-mile journey to New York on horseback, by stage-coach, and finally by river steamer down the Hudson to buy life insurance. Returning home he resolved to help his own countrymen obtain the same security. With a few associates in 1847 he organized the first Canadian life insurance company—the Canada Life.

Throughout its hundred years, this Company has brought security and peace of mind to Canadians in all walks of life.
